

HE ASKS FOR NEW TRIAL

Claim Made That Mysterious Pistol Was Sold in Oakland.

AUBURN, April 13.—Adolph Weber was called for sentence this morning for murdering his mother. When he appeared in court he was pale and nervous and thinner than before.

When asked by the court to stand up he refused at first, but on request of counsel afterwards stood up and asked the court why he was asked to. The court rectified the various steps taken in the case and then asked if he had any reason to state why sentence should not be pronounced.

MAKES A MOTION.

His attorney, Grove L. Johnson, stated that the defendant wished to make a motion for a new trial on the ground of errors and new evidence discovered which could not have been presented at the time of the trial.

He stated he had a number of affidavits from various parties in relation to the case that were very material and contradictory to the evidence of the prosecution at the trial.

THE PISTOL.

The first affidavit was by Nathan C. Board, residence not stated, to the effect that in May 1904 he was working for the Santa Fe road at Needles. There he met a man he knew only as "The Sailor." He bought from this man a pistol for a dollar and a half, an old model Iver-Johnson 32-calibre, number 18554. On September 30, 1904 he sold it to a man employed in the repair shops at Oakland, whose name he did not know. When he read evidence of Henry Carr in the Weber trial that he sold the pistol to Adolph Weber, he remembered the number of his pistol and that on July 4th when he and friends were shooting with the pistol he had bought they wondered if that many pistols of the old pattern had been made.

STRANGE CASE.

He communicated with Weber's attorneys and came to Auburn at their request. He was shown the pistol identified by Carr as sold by him to Adolph Weber and found that it was the same pistol sold by him to an Oakland man in September. Weber's counsel stated that they had many other affidavits to offer and about 200 exceptions to the rulings of the court during the trial.

The hearing of the motion and the arguments for a new trial will probably take all day and perhaps more.

CHERBOURG, France, April 13.—It is reported that an American squadron will visit this port during the summer. This is favorably commented upon in connection with the report from Germany that an American squadron will visit Kiel at the time of the regatta there this summer.

NAN IS IN COURT ON A CONSPIRACY CHARGE.

Must Make a Defense to Accusation That She Conspired to Get Money From Young.

NEW YORK, April 13.—Nan Patterson was brought into court of general sessions by her own consent to plead to a charge of conspiracy to get money from Caesar Young, the bookmaker. She is accused of having conspired with J. Morgan Smith and his wife, Miss Patterson's sister, to extort money from the dead bookmaker.

She was not allowed to plead to the charge, however, as Assistant District Attorney Rand asked Judge Foster that she be arraigned, holding that now unnecessary.

Miss Patterson's counsel requested permission to examine the minutes of the Grand Jury which indicted her. This was opposed by Mr. Rand, who asked for a delay of one day in order that Miss Patterson might be arraigned in company with J. Morgan Smith and

MISS COURTWRIGHT IS COST OF RECENT REVIVAL

MISS ALICE B. COURTWRIGHT.

Daughter of Aged Minister Now Demands a Trial By a Jury in Superior Court.

After an exhaustive examination which lasted the entire morning Miss Alice B. Courtwright was found by Drs. O. D. Hamlin and Dr. Susan J. Fenton to be mentally unbalanced and was committed by Judge Henry Melvin to the Napa Insane Asylum. Not satisfied by the decision of the doctors, Attorney H. G. Walker, who is fighting for Miss Courtwright's liberty, states that he will claim a jury trial for his client.

PECULIAR CASE.

The case is a peculiar one and the insanity so illusive that it was hard to fix. Apparently the young woman is bright and intelligent, yet she has brought to her family sorrow and disgrace. To an outsider she is as apparently as normal as any one but she imagines that her family has turned against her and made direct and improper charges of misconduct against her brother-in-law, Thomas Glenn, who, with tears in his eyes, begged Judge Melvin to send her away where she could not make such charges against her family.

By itself the evidence of her mental unbalance was not altogether convincing, but taken with the fact that she was found to be insane after a similar scene at Chicago and only escaped the asylum by a prominent professor of the University of Chicago and his wife, who were blinded by the girl's apparent sanity, promising the Court to give her the best medical care if she were allowed to go with them, she was given into their charge and a few weeks later she suddenly disappeared.

SCHOOLS CLASH.

Two schools of physicians also clashed over the sanity of the young woman and involved the question to a large degree. Drs. Clarence Sellridge and N. A. Chamberlain, homeopaths, testified yesterday that they had examined the woman found her to be sane. Dr. L. L. Egan, an allopath and Dr. A. Shick, who examined her at the hospital, both declare that she is insane. Dr. Sellridge sat beside Attorney Walker this morning and prompted the questioning of his brother-in-law's wife. The examining physicians, Drs. Hamlin and Fenton are divided, one being allopath and the other homeopath.

AFFECTING SCENE.

The scene at times was affecting in the extreme. The aged father cried as he told how his daughter had declared she would disgrace them and go on to the street if her mother would not side with her as against her other brothers and sisters. She has the peculiar form of insanity which turns one against her best friends. At Chicago the father said that she accused Judge Simpson, an eminent man, her brother-in-law there and a minister with having made improper advances to her.

Mrs. Glenn, the sister, had a difficult role of bracing up her aged father and mother in the trial and quieting her husband, who rose to strike Attorney Walker, who pressed him with a charge of immorality. According to Mrs. Glenn her husband waited on her sister for days and was up seven times in one night to get things she imagined she wanted.

FATHER'S STORY.

In telling his story Rev. C. W. Courtwright, the father, said that the reason why they finally took the action they did at Chicago was because she so worried him for the center of attraction. Going back over her past history as I have with her, and made a searching analysis of her ailments, I am convinced that in five years' time she will be a raving maniac, and that these symptoms are premonitory. If you touch her she is apt to scream with pain. She will drink great quantities of water and so distort herself as to make it appear and probably does suffer to some little degree. But she is over the borderland and what she says cannot be depended upon.

Rev. J. H. Vosburg Replies to the Rev. Chas. R. Brown.

WHILE HE ADMITS THAT THE RECENT REVIVAL DID NOT GIVE THE RESULTS THAT MANY EXPECTED, THE REV. H. J. VOSBURGH, PASTOR OF THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, SAYS THAT THE EFFORT WAS JUSTIFIED AND THAT SIMILAR CAMPAIGNS SHOULD BE CONDUCTED FREQUENTLY. HE BLAMES THE COMMUNITY AND NOT THE EVANGELISTS FOR THE FAILURE.

When seen in his study at the church today, the Rev. Vosburgh said that he was one of the committee of ministers that arranged for the series of revival meetings. He said he had read with interest the Rev. C. R. Brown's commentary on the revival, which was printed in the "Pacific." In discussing the matter he said:

"With many of the particular items in Mr. Brown's article, I agree, but I do not feel that he has carefully considered all the factors that enter into the situation.

"The work of the evangelists did not produce the results that some expected, but this failure cannot be justly charged to them—at least, exclusively.

"From personal knowledge and from reliable correspondence I know that the tangible results in other communities where these evangelists have labored were far greater than here. They used the same methods and preached the same doctrines as here and the differing results must be looked for chiefly in the religious life of the community.

SPIRITUAL LIFE.

"The spiritual life of our churches has not been of the character that would lead us to expect great results. Furthermore, the meetings did not last as long as the needs of the community demanded.

"There were, however, definite results that abundantly justify the effort and, personally, I believe that similar campaigns should be conducted frequently."

THE COST.

The religious revival which was recently held in this city cost the people of Oakland nearly $5,000 or to be more exact, $4,760. As a result, there have been 1,500 cards signed by people who set forth that they had been converted.

The report of the financial committee, which had charge of the money actually expended and which knows approximately at least, the amount of money which reached the evangelists without passing through the committee's hands, will be ready and will be given to the public in a few days. It is stated by a member of the committee that the showing will differ but slightly from the estimated sum above presented.

All that now remains to be done by that organization is to hold a meeting and pass upon bills amounting to about $100, which have been presented since the last meeting of the organization. These bills will exhaust the balance remaining in the fund collected to defray the expenses of the revival. When these vouchers are paid, the report of the committee will be presented to the public.

The money which changed hands between the people of Oakland and vicinity and the evangelists may be itemized as follows:

Raised in advance of the coming of evangelists	$2500
Collection, First Presbyterian Church, for Rev. Henry Ostrom	925
Collection, First Congregational Church for Rev. J. Wilber Chapman	665
Collection, Eighth Avenue M. E. Church for Rev. R. A. Walton	250
Collection, Chester Street M. E. Church for Rev. John H. Elliott	200
Collection, Twenty-third Avenue Baptist Church for Rev. H. W. Stough	200

WM. WASTE IS APPOINTED SUPERIOR JUDGE.

SUPERIOR JUDGE W. H. WASTE.

Governor Pardee Notifies Him That He Will Succeed Judge S. P. Hall.

The following telegram was received this morning by Attorney W. H. Waste from Governor George C. Pardee:

"SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 13.—Hon. W. H. Waste, 906 Broadway, Oakland. I have appointed you Superior Judge. GEORGE C. PARDEE."

The announcement was received with much gratification by Mr. Waste, who had in his pocket a largely signed petition of the legal fraternity which he was about to send to the Governor asking him to appoint him to the office, and which was rendered needless by the receipt of this telegram.

It was not expected that the appointment would be made for several days, owing to the fact that Judge Hall has not yet sent in his resignation, and it is probable that the telegram is only the notice of what the Governor intends to do and that the commission will not be sent until Judge Hall's resignation is received.

ANOTHER APPOINTMENT.

SACRAMENTO, April 13.—Governor Pardee today appointed Assemblyman William H. Waste of Berkeley to succeed S. P. Hall as a Judge of the Superior Court of Alameda county, and Lewis G. Herrier of Vallejo to succeed A. J. Buckles as a Judge of the Superior Court of Solano county.

Judge Hall and Judge Buckles were appointed several days ago to be judges of the new District Court of Appeals, and Waste and Herrier were appointed to fill the vacancies thus created.

RATS ARE COMPANIONS OF AGED WOMAN.

The Board of Health have decided that Mary Elliott, a colored woman more than one hundred years old, who lives in a barn on Twenty-second street between Linden and Chestnut streets, shall have some other companions than rats and mice.

Last night, acting upon a report from the Sanitary Inspector, the barn was condemned.

For more than three months the Associated Charities has been attempting to get the old colored woman to leave the dingy barn and take up her residence in more congenial quarters. She was offered a home at the County Infirmary and was also offered a home with friends, but she refused both of these, preferring to live alone with the rodents in her barn. The old lady is very uncommunicative and as a rule refuses to answer the questions put to her.

Owing to her great age, she has difficulty in feeding herself and some arrangement will be made whereby she can secure proper clothes and food.

UNE is informed by a member of the Finance Committee, will fall short of $200 and one of them may be increased to possibly $400.

There is in this no accounting for gratuities or honorariums which may have been bestowed by people of means who are liberal in aiding in this means of bringing souls to God whose feeling of appreciation may have been affected by the energy, devotion or eloquence of the men of God.

What sum may have gone to the evangelists, of course, may not be ascertained, because that was a matter between the donors and the recipients and with it neither the General nor Finance Committee had anything to do.

It will thus be seen that, while the evangelists displayed zeal in the salvation of souls, they also had an idea as to the commercial value of gospel effort.

The revival continued two weeks. The $225 received by Rev. Mr. Ostrom was at the rate of $462.50 a week. This is remuneration, which is considered, even by many of those who

NO NEWS OF A SEA BATTLE

Russians Will Not Tell of Plans of the Fleet.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 13, 5:59 p. m.—The news of the northward movement of Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron, and his evident intention to accept battle whenever Admiral Togo chooses to offer it has for the present stilled all activity in the direction of peace, and the foreign dispatches relating to the voyage of the squadron are followed with the most intense interest.

PLANS SECRET.

The Admiralty volunteers no information regarding Rojestvensky's plans, whether his immediate destination is or not Cape Pedern, on the east coast of Cochin China, but in naval circles the impression prevails that the squadron will continue northward to the Straits of Formosa, where if Admiral Togo does not elect to give battle or is defeated, Admiral Rojestvensky may seize a temporary base in Japanese territory and, if it is considered advisable, he could there await the arrival of Admiral Nebogatoff's division. It is remarked that there is a force of riflemen on board the Russian transports which could be landed for the purpose of co-operating with marines in the same fashion that the United States established a base at Guantanamo, Cuba, in 1898. Other naval men think that Vladivostok is the only base the Russian Admiral has in view.

There is an embargo on news from Vladivostok concerning the Russian cruisers Rossia, Grombol, and Bogatyr, and it is supposed, though the Admiralty does not confirm the supposition, that they have put to sea to effect a diversion and prevent mine laying.

SOME IRRITATION.

Considerable irritation is manifested in naval circles at the activity of British ships in Chinese waters which are reported to be steaming from Hong Kong to Singapore and their action is attributed to a desire to keep in touch with the Russian squadron and report its movements to the world at large and to Great Britain's ally in particular, as happened in the case of the British armored cruiser Sutlej, which arrived at Singapore, Straits Settlement, yesterday, and reported having passed the Russian Second Pacific squadron at daylight April 11, steaming north.

Minister of Railroads Hilkoft has left St. Petersburg for Siberia to superintend the improvements being made on the trans-Siberian railroad, and the inauguration of the river service in Siberia.

RUSSIAN FLEET.

SINGAPORE, April 13.—The Russian fleet was in lat. 8 degrees north, long. 108 degrees 55 minutes east at noon April 11. The Peninsular and Oriental steamer Nubia, which has arrived here, reports having passed no less than forty-two vessels there. They were steering north-northeast at a speed of 8 or 10 knots.

The position of the fleet was then about 300 miles northeastward of the Natuna Islands (which lie between the Malay peninsula and the west coast of Borneo) and more than 200 miles southeast of Cape St. Jacques. This course indicates that the fleet was not going to Saigon, French Cochin China.

SESSION CLOSURE.

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 13.—The session of 1905 of the Pennsylvania Legislature closed today. One of the last acts of the House was to defeat the Gehring newspaper retraction bill.

RUSSIAN ARMY PREPARED TO RENEW BATTLE

Reinforcements Have Been Secured --Japanese Advanced Guard Ten Miles Away.

PARIS, April 13.—Captain Rodé telegraphs to the Matin that he has been the guest of General Kaulbars, commander of the Second Manchurian army at the Russian front.

The Captain's observations showed that the Russian army had been reinforced and is prepared to renew the battle.

The troops maneuver daily in battle formation.

The Japanese cavalry advance guard, the dispatch adds, is barely ten miles away, and frequent cavalry skirmishes take place.

The prisoners captured have sabre cuts on their heads, showing hand to hand skirmishes.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 12.—A dispatch from Gungshu Päss dated yesterday says the Russian advance detachment on the Mandarin road pushed forward April 11 and bombarded Manchintzys at midday.

The Japanese infantry and cavalry hurriedly vacated the place, leaving their dinners, maps, etc.

HAS COAL FOR RUSSIANS

PARIS, April 13.—Herr Dekel, who is charged with the duty of gathering together supplies of coal for the Russian Second Pacific squadron has, according to a statement made to the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Matin, 70,000 tons at Saigon and 50,000 tons at Shanghai, which he expects the Russian squadron to take on board.

GERMAN BOAT IS RELEASED

SINGAPORE, Straits Settlement, April 13.—The German collier Hindoo (at this port loaded with 4200 tons of Cardiff coal for the Island of Tanjong Pandan, between Borneo and Sumatra, and which was refused clearance papers for Saigon unless her commander gave bonds to deliver her cargo through the British Consul here, was released today, her captain agreeing to deliver his cargo through the British Consul at Saigon.

RUSSIAN DIES LIKE A JAP

ST. PETERSBURG, April 13.—A peculiar case of a peasant who committed suicide in Japanese fashion is received from Yamysheva, near Tarskoe-Sele. The peasant referred to became a great admirer of the valiancy of the Japanese. He informed his family that he was tired of life and that he proposed to imitate their methods of suicide and eventually carried out his intentions.

COURSE OF WAR VESSELS

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The Navy Department was advised of the departure today of the cruiser Raleigh from La Buan on the north coast of British Borneo, where she was dispatched by Rear-Admiral Train to observe the movements of the hostile fleets, for Cuyo, in the Philippines, a point about 400 miles to the northeast.

SCARES BURGLAR

Attorney Church's Wife Frightens Away Bold Thief.

A bold attempt was made last night to burglarize the residence of Attorney L. S. Church, but was frustrated through the efforts of Mrs. Church, who was the only one besides her baby girl home at the time.

The thief had timed his efforts to a nicety. Mr. Church was compelled to go to his office down town and left the house soon after 7 o'clock. Mrs. Church, instead of remaining downstairs, went upstairs and prepared to retire.

Soon after the lights were out Mrs. Church heard the ringing of the bell as if someone had been at the door. She then went to the door and found a man standing in the hall. He had then on the screen door, smashed a window pane from the rear door and entered the house.

The breaking of the window glass aroused Mrs. Church, who, though thoroughly frightened, decided that action of some kind must be taken.

She lit the gas and opened the door leading into the hall.

The burglar, who had come from her room had the desired effect and the burglar, who apparently was in the hall, made a bolt for the front door. He slammed the door behind him and ran down the front steps.

The burglar did not obtain anything of value, although he was preparing to gather together a lot of silverware.

Mrs. Church was too nervous to again go to sleep and decided to sit up and await the return of her husband.

Just a few minutes after the burglar had his escape mounted, Policeman Huntley passed the house and was seen by Mrs. Church. She notified to call the police officer or perhaps the burglar might have been caught.

There have been a series of robberies in the neighborhood district and it is thought that one man is responsible for the series of crimes.

COST OF RECENT REVIVAL.

a week, or $84 for the time he remained in Oakland. Besides his expenses while here, came out of his pocket, but out of the fund raised by subscribers.

To the expenses of the evangelists and vocalists while here was added the cost of transportation of the traveling band from Los Angeles to this city.

To defray the cost of this transportation and the cost of hotel accommodations in Oakland, the Finance Committee handed Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman a check, in round figures for $1200. Mr. Chapman having advanced the money for railroad tickets from Los Angeles to this city.

The members of the band are therefore under no expense. When they ride, eat or work they need have no thought as to the money. Everything is supplied to them by the people they labor among, and every cent they get is clear profit.

More than that, this combination method of uplifting humanity is backed by a large number of wealthy Christian gentlemen in the East, under the auspices of the Presbyterian Church. One of these gentlemen, John H. Converse of Philadelphia, alone subscribed $50,000 to the fund with which to plow the field and plant the seed that the regular pastors may tend and reap the harvest," as Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman put it.

One of the contributors to the local fund, who objects to extravagant commercialism in religion, said to a TRIBUNE reporter that he knew ministers who were anxious to know where was the harvest they were expected to reap. Many of these clergymen had, he claimed, but a scanty living at least, and after such an expensive revival, their "financial pickings" would be smaller than ever.

Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman stands in a relation to the Eastern religious syndicate different from that of the other clerical exhorters. It makes little difference to him how liberal or parsimonious the brethren are along the line. He is guaranteed a salary of $10,000 a year by the Eastern Christian gentlemen. Other members of the band, members of the Finance Committee say, have refused to so ally themselves with the Eastern syndicate, while others, as yet, have not been requested to do so.

The $2500 raised here comprised $2300 in subscriptions and $200 in sales from books. Of this amount, $1200 went for expenses of evangelists and singers, and the rest for tickets and theater rent.

The band will hold a revival in San Francisco in November, and it is not known now whether they will be asked to appear again so soon, at least on this side of the bay.

BEGGAR IS SENTENCED.

F. H. Wash, an overgrown and healthy beggar was today sentenced to serve 100 days in prison for begging, there on a charge of begging. He pleaded guilty to having asked several pedestrians to supply him with money and had no good excuse to offer as to why he did not work for a living. The vagrant, when he stood up to get his sentence measured a full six feet.

WOMAN ENDS LIFE

Body of Millionaire's Wife Found in Bath Tub.

CHICAGO, April 13.—The body of Mrs. Grace Loomis, who claimed to be the wife of Charles Loomis, said by her to be a millionaire, was found in a half-filled bath tub in a fashionable boarding house in Michigan avenue today.

The body was fully dressed and lay face down in the tub.

Frequent threats made by Mrs. Loomis that she intended to kill herself leave no doubt that the case is one of suicide.

Domestic troubles are thought to have been the cause.

entirely deceived. He also went and told the Judge the same thing.

EDUCATED WOMAN.

Mrs. Glenn stated that her sister was a stenographer and an educated woman as well. She had wandered about the country from place to place and at times they lost track of her for months. Then in some way they would hear of her again. While at my home in East Oakland she accused her father and mother of being hypocrites, and said that she had more religion than they," related the witness. "It was the only time I said anything cross to her, and I did tell her then that she could not stay in my house and talk in such a way about my parents."

"She would say she was unable to telephone on account of her arms being paralyzed, and in a little while she would be out in the yard or doing much more difficult work. She would take a hot bath and then go and sit in an open window and see her one day walking with hardly anything on and in her light slippers out in the wet grass, and these actions, besides others I cannot remember, taken with the terrible way she talks about us all, made me believe that she is insane and caused me to swear to the warrant."

The matter of having Miss Courtwright tried by a jury will come up before Judge Smith tomorrow morning. She is not to be taken away before tomorrow evening, and if Judge Melvin should deny a jury trial habeas corpus proceedings will then be begun.

UNIVERSITY'S POLICY CHANGED

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., April 13.—Dr. Edward Anderson Alderman will be installed president of the University of Virginia today.

Unusual interest attached to the event as marking the first change in the governmental policy of the institution established by Thomas Jefferson eighty years ago, and to which that famous statesman enthusiastically devoted the latter part of his life.

Jeffersonian simplicity of government for the institution did not contemplate a president. Jefferson wrote into his charter that government should be administered by a board of regents, a chairman for which should be annually elected from among the professors.

Along these lines the University of Virginia grew to its place as a potent factor among the higher institutions of learning of the South.

The recent development of the University has rendered its efficient administration impracticable under the old methods, and the change is made to meet the larger demands.

Dr. Alderman is a native of Wilmington, N. C. He has devoted his life to educational work.

LADY CURZON TO CARE FOR THEM

SIMLA, India, April 13.—Lady Curzon, wife of the Viceroy, has invited all the Europeans and Indians injured during the recent earthquake who are able to be moved to come to the Walker and Ripon Hospitals at Simla as her guests.

The invitation was sent through the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, with an intimation that the American Viceroy will defray their expenses.

LA MORE (Punjab), India, April 13.—

Later reports from Mandi, capital of Mandi State, say that at least 400 persons were killed in the city by the earthquake. The palaces, temples and residences were leveled.

Estimates of the number of people killed at Saitanpur vary from 200 to 700.

The $2500 raised here comprised $2300 in subscriptions and $200 in sales from books. Of this amount, $1200 went for expenses of evangelists and singers, and the rest for tickets and theater rent.

The band will hold a revival in San Francisco in November, and it is not known now whether they will be asked to appear again so soon, at least on this side of the bay.

IS HE A BUGGER?

Police May Have Man Who Scares the Berkeley Co-eds.

BERKELEY, April 13.—Berni Ameda, a middle aged man who gives his address as 333 Vallejo street, San Francisco, was taken into custody this morning by the University police force who suspect him of being the mysterious "bugger" who has been terrorizing college girls in the vicinity of Hearst Hall for several days.

Ameda was arrested by Officers Edgar and Watson of the University police force. He attempted to escape when he saw that the officers were after him, then they covered him with their guns he threw up his hands.

When taken into custody Ameda had several coils of rope in his pocket and carried a gunny sack. He said he had come over from San Francisco on the seven o'clock boat to gather lilies in Co-ed Canyon. It was after ten o'clock when he was taken into custody and he had not yet succeeded in finding any lilies.

For some time past a man, whose tactics resemble those of "Jack the Bugger" who operated in Berkeley last winter, has been lurking among the trees and along the paths about Hearst Hall, where the co-eds of the University assemble. Complaints had been made to Policemen Edgar and he kept a sharp look-out for the fellow. This morning the man appeared again and accosted several college girls, who escaped him and ran into Hearst Hall.

Residents in the "Walworth," a students' boarding house near Hearst Hall observed the actions of the strange man from a window in their house and at once telephoned the University Police. Edgar and Watson were detailed to arrest the stranger.

PLENTY OF WAGONS DESPITE STRIKE

CHICAGO, April 13.—Notwithstanding the continuance of the strike of teamsters and garment workers, Montgomery Ward & Co. today started out more wagons than on any previous day since the teamsters for the firm quit work.

The new aspect of a more numerous and more powerful strike force was not apparent on previous days.

Eighteen loaded trucks were sent out simultaneously from the firm's headquarters to the various railroad freight houses.

While a peace conference was in session today scenes of disorder prevailed on the streets. A caravan of three wagons bound for Northwestern freight house was stopped at Kinsey street bridge.

Heavy plants had been placed across the structure at right angles, and laced into the trusses in such a manner that the plants could not be removed except by sawing.

FREDRICK, Okla., April 13.—The President will end his hunt this afternoon according to his original plans. He and the following members of his party will arrive here between six and seven this evening: Dr. A. Lambert, General S. B. M. Young, Col. Cecil A. Lyons, Hon. Sloan Simpson, Lieut. G. R. Portesque, Captain S. B. Burnett, W. T. Waggoner, Tom Burnett, C. B. McHugh, Captain Bill McDonald, J. R. Abernathy.

After meeting a committee of citizens he will make an address. Dennis T. Flynn and Congressman John H. Stephenson of Texas are old time friends of the President, and are here and his train is scheduled to leave Frederick at 8:25 tonight for Colorado.

OFFICIAL CORRESPONDENCE IS MADE PUBLIC.

Diplomatic Exchanges Between United States and Japanese Government.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Official correspondence made public at the State Department today discloses the fact that the Japanese government in announcing to the American Minister at Tokyo on February 16th of last year the "breaking of diplomatic relations with Russia, assured him that hostilities would not begin until after a declaration had been made.

The correspondence comprises so much of the diplomatic exchanges between Washington and Tokyo as the Department thinks it expedient to publish and among the first is the following official paraphrase of a cablegram from Minister Griscorn dated American Legation, Tokyo, February 6, 1904:

"Mr. Griscorn reports that the Minister of Foreign Affairs stated that a declaration of war will not be made until after the withdrawal of their legation, which will probably take two or three days and hostilities will not begin until after the declaration of war. In an interview the Minister for Foreign Affairs went over the whole course of the negotiations, devoted attention to the extreme patience and moderation of the attitude of Japan, and stated that after asking the Russian government five times to expedite a reply and having waited three weeks without result, no alternative remained but to act."

MINISTER'S DEPARTURE.

On the following day the correspondence showed that Minister Griscorn reported that the departure of the Russian Minister would take place on February 12. On February 12th, subsequent to the receipt of the news of the torpedo attack upon the Russian fleet at Port Arthur on February 9th, Minister Griscorn sent a brief telegram to the Department, of which this is the official paraphrase:

"Mr. Griscorn reports that the declaration of war was issued on the 10th instant."

No other correspondence shedding light on this incident is contained in the notes published.

Of interest is a note of Secretary Hay, dated May 5 last, to the Japanese minister at Washington, calling his attention to the circulation in the American press of a note from the consulate general of Japan at New York, addressed to "The Japanese serving in the U. S. Navy," soliciting subscriptions to Japanese bonds, contributions to the relief fund for Japanese soldiers and sailors, and in aid of the Red Cross society of Japan in this country to subscribe or contribute to the objects mentioned. The Secretary says in his note to Mr. Takahira:

"Yet it is undesirable that such contributions should be sought through the naval official channels of this government," and he therefore, "brings the matter to your attention with the request that you will inform the consular officers of Japan in the United States of the attitude of this government in the matter."

INSTRUCTIONS.

The Japanese minister gave the necessary instructions to the Japanese consular general in New York.

The correspondence includes a copy of a note from the Japanese minister at Washington calling the attention of this government to the presence of the Russian ship Lena at San Francisco and stating that the Imperial Japanese government expects that appropriate measures regarding the matter will be taken by the United States government without delay.

Several days later another note reached the State Department from the Japanese minister, expressing the desire of his government that the officers and crew of the Lena be detained in the territory of the United States until the end of hostilities.

The Acting Secretary of State, Mr. Adair, promptly acknowledged the note and adding:

"In reply I have the honor to state that the President, exercising his prerogative in carrying out the neutrality proclamation by him, had already, before the receipt of your communication, taken the appropriate steps to detain the officers and crew of the Lena in this country until peace shall have been concluded, unless in the meantime the belligerents shall have concurred in proposing to him other arrangements in this regard."

OFFICIAL DENIAL IS MADE

Jealousy is the Cause of Fatal Shooting.

COLORADO SPRINGS, April 13.—A special to the Telegraph from Cripple Creek, Colo., says:

Mrs. S. W. Vidler, the wife of a well-known newspaper man, shot and instantly killed Mrs. H. C. Douglass of Colorado Springs in the National Hotel this morning.

Jealousy is supposed to be the cause of the crime.

Mrs. Vidler, who was very much excited, rapped on the door of a room in which were Mr. Vidler and Mrs. Douglass. Mrs. Vidler opened the door. His wife entered and immediately shot Mrs. Douglass in the breast.

Mr. and Mrs. Vidler were arrested. They have three children, the oldest eleven years, but have not been living together of late.

After the shooting Mrs. Vidler became hysterical and bewailed her act. She was released on a bond for $5,000. No charge was made against her husband, and he was set free this afternoon.

FOUND GUILTY OF BATTERY

Police Judge Smith this morning found John Tubman Jr. and E. R. Williams guilty of battery on C. V. Gardiner, a Market street motorman. Herman G. Peller, accused of the same offense, was found not guilty. The boys will come up for sentence tomorrow morning.

Their defense was that another youth who was with them that night, but who now is in Los Angeles, was the one that had attacked the motorman.

The young men confessed to having consumed a large quantity of liquor. The remainder of their testimony was not very connected. The officials of the Oakland Traction Company have been endeavoring to capture the offenders for thirty days.

JOCKEY POWELL BADLY INJURED

Ivy Powell, a jockey at the Emeryville race track, was thrown this morning while exercising the race horse Greenhall and sustained such injuries that it will be some time before he can again sit in the saddle. The animal made a sudden lunge and threw him clear over the fence on the inside the race track and he struck on his face and shoulder. His nose was broken and his arms were lamed and he sustained a severe shaking up. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital where Dr. L. L. Riggin treated him for his nose and a badly contused head and severe lacerations of the face.

Nervousness

Read my offer—a full dollar's worth of my Remedy free to try—without deposit or risk, or promise to pay.

Nervousness, restlessness, sleeplessness, irritability—all are the outward signs of inward nerve disturbance. The fault is not with the nerves which give you warning—not with the nerves which enable you to feel, to walk, to talk, to think, to see. But the INSIDE nerves, the automatic power nerves—these are the nerves that work years out and worry breaks down.

I have not room here to explain how these automatic nerves control and operate the stomach, the heart, the kidneys, the liver. How excesses and strains and overindulgence destroy their delicate fibres. How, through a bond of sympathy, weakness in one center is conveyed to each of the other centers. How this same bond of sympathy produces the outward signs of nervousness which should warn us of the trouble within. I have not room to explain how these nerves may be reached and strengthened and vitalized and made well by a remedy I spent thirty years in perfecting—now known by druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. I have not room to explain how this remedy, by removing the cause, puts a certain end to all forms of nervousness, inward and outward, including restlessness, sleeplessness, irritability. All of these things are fully explained in the book I will send you when you write.

In more than a million homes my remedy is known, and relied upon. Yet you may not have heard of it. So I make this offer to you, a stranger, that every possible excuse for doubt may be removed. Send no money—make no promise—take no risk. Simply write and ask, if you have never tried my remedy, I will send you an order on your druggist for a full dollar bottle—not a sample, but the regular standard bottle he keeps constantly on his shelves. The druggist will require no conditions. He will accept my order as cheerfully as though your dollar lay before him. He will send the bill to me.

Will you accept this opportunity to learn at MY EXPENSE ABSOLUTELY how to be rid forever of all forms of nervousness—to be rid not only of the trouble, but of the very cause which produced it? Write today.

G. C. BORNEMANN TELLS OF TRIP EAST.

Popular Young Business Man Says We Should Have a Great Exhibit at Portland.

GEORGE C. BORNEMANN.

"The residents of Oakland and Alameda county will make a grave mistake if they do not send a fine exhibit to the Lewis and Clark Exposition at Portland. One can hardly realize this until he has viewed the fair grounds of the northern city."

The foregoing words were spoken last evening by George C. Bornemann, who recently returned from a business trip East and who paid a visit to Portland on his way back to California.

Mr. Bornemann is the nephew of Supreme Justice Joseph McKenna, whom he visited at Washington. When seen at his home at Ninth and Madison streets last evening, he described his trip to a representative of THE TRIBUNE. He said:

"I left Oakland March 6 on a business trip and went direct to New Orleans. From there I went in turn to Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, Chicago, St. Paul and Portland."

"In Washington I met my uncle, Justice McKenna of the Supreme Court. As I represent his interests on this coast, I spent five days in Washington conferring with him. I found Judge McKenna to be in fairly good health—much better than he has been in the past, but the arduous duties of his responsible position are telling on him and he is aging rapidly."

"My visit East was purely on business, and it was therefore hurried. Naturally, I was forced to let sight-seeing suffer, and I am therefore unable to say much about the conditions on the other side of the Rockies. I went East in the interests of the firm of George C. Bornemann & Co. of San Francisco, that acts as agent for an Eastern typewriter company, and my business was principally along those lines."

"The conditions in the East of the typewriter trade is in a peculiar shape and there will be some surprising revelations in a short time. Many recent inventions, particularly along electrical lines, have practically revolutionized the trade."

"The thing that interested me most, outside business, was the Portland fair. Oakland residents and those of Alameda county and California should visit Portland to realize the importance of the Exposition. It would be a revelation to them. It will be a compact show and is under the management of an honest, upright board of directors. There will be none of the graft that we experienced at the recent fair at St. Louis."

"It is surprising how the people in the East are talking about the coming Portland fair, and many persons will take advantage of the round trip rates to visit that city. It behooves Californians to make a fine showing there and induce the visitors to come to this State. The people of Oregon seem to feel that they have been slighted by the Californians, and this is, in a measure, true. We wish them well, but we do not feel the interest in them that they expect. The newspapers of Oregon 'knock' California at every opportunity. If California would only stand in with them now, boost the Exposition and send a fine exhibit there it would certainly be to the State's advantage, for there is national interest in the fair. Let us all get together and show, not only Oregon but the people of the East what California can do. We should send an exhibit that would prove that Alameda county is the garden spot of America."

"I am glad to be home again. They talk considerably in the East of the beautiful snow. I don't like it. I certainly prefer the glorious climate of Madison street to anything they have elsewhere."

a piece of the Grand Hotel site. This news will astonish the public, as the general impression is that the Sharon estate is the owner of all the land while, as a matter of fact, its title thereto is only a small portion, the greater part being occupied under lease from several owners. The corner of Market and New Montgomery street, 30 by 81.6, belongs to the Sharon Estate Company, which has bought the adjoining 25 by 81.6 on Market street from Mrs. Elizabeth Connor for nearly $6000 a front foot, or $145,000.

BEGINS A SUIT AGAINST SISTERS
On June 5, 1902, 7-year-old Edward A. Morgan boarded a Southern Pacific train at Berryman station, Berkeley, a practice common among the small boys for some time. At the time stated there were no gates on the train and riding was free of charge. The lad was thrown from the platform by the motion of the train and received injuries that have almost totally blinded him and have made him a physical wreck.

Yesterday the little lad appeared in Judge Melvin's court to listen to the proceedings against the Southern Pacific Company, which company he is suing through his mother, Mrs. Mary A. Morgan. The suit is for $100,000. Owing to the fact that a jury could not be selected from a full panel the trial had to be postponed until May 29.

The plaintiff on the case claims that the company was negligent in allowing small boys to ride on the trains, and the company alleges that the boy was injured through his own carelessness.

LENTEN LECTURE

Interesting Remarks of the Rev. Father Yorke.

Another lecture of the Lenten series was delivered by the Rev. Father Yorke last evening at St. Anthony's Auditorium.

The next lecture, on Palm Sunday, will be "The Revival of Learning."

The third group of Lenten lectures will be given during the last week of Lent and will conclude at the high mass on Easter Sunday.

The Rev. Father Yorke's remarks last evening were very interesting, and, in part, were as follows:

"We have now come to the close of the second period of the history of the church. For a period of a thousand years the church has been engaged in the making of Europe. It may be well to take a comprehensive glance at the characteristics of the age in order to see what was the result of the ecclesiastical influence."

"We have two factors working during this period. The church as the moulder, the barbarians as the plastic mass. We must bear in mind that during these ages the church was free, that is, she had no intellectual or religious rival in Europe. We cannot well judge the church influence during the past 400 years because owing to the Protestant revolution the church has been fighting for her government and has been and is practically under martial law. But in the middle ages she was free and it is no injustice to judge her by the fruits she then produced."

"With regard to the plastic mass on which she worked we must remember she dealt with the men of the middle ages, not with the men of the twentieth century. She dealt with the sons and daughters of the Goths and Vandals. She dealt with men whose hands from their earliest youth were trained to war. Her pupils were moulded of blood and iron and clay."

"Bearing these two principles in mind we can see from the constitution of the society of the middle ages whether ecclesiastical principles tend."

"They make for civil liberty. All civil liberty is founded on law, on the moral law. The great lesson the Popes taught the emperors and the kings of the middle ages was that they, too, were subject to law. During these times we hear nothing of the divine right of kings. The deposing power of the Pope, which has since been so much misrepresented and so much derided, simply meant the supremacy of the moral law. Its form during the middle ages grew out of the feudal system. The king was the trustee of the land. The king was merely a trustee of the land. His great nobles were trustees under him. If a noble practiced treason or other crime, he lost the trust his lands were taken from him, his trusteeship ended. In the same way if the emperor or a king was false to his trusteeship the Pope removed him and set another in his place. The theory was perfectly simple and just. The working out of it, of course, is another matter. But the same difficulty is found with our most enlightened modern constitutions."

"All our guarantees of personal liberty come to us from the middle ages. The great principles of trial by one's peers and of no taxation without representation were then justified and made perpetual. The growth of the Italian republics, the example of Switzerland, the highly restricted character of the monarchy all show that the exercise of liberty was fostered by Catholic principles. But perhaps the most significant of all facts is this, that during the middle ages, without agitation, without bloodshed, human slavery withered and disappeared from Christendom."

"As to religious liberty the principle was defended by all the school men that the act of faith must be free. Forced conversions, though adopted in the Scandinavian and Saxon countries as acts of military necessity were decided to be against the spirit of Christianity. The adherents of non-Christian sects were un molested. The Moors and Jews lived at peace in Christian communities. During certain periods there were anti-semitic outbreaks but we have had them even in our own day. There is no evidence that anti-semitism has a religious basis. Jewish money stir more wars than Jewish faith."

"The Christian Church was a unit. Though the Emperor quarrelled with the Pope yet he did not leave the church. They were domestic or family quarrels. There was no persecution for heresy pure and simple in the middle ages until almost its close. When persecution occurred it was justified precisely in the same manner as we now justify the persecution of the Mormons, the heretics were a danger to the State. There is no doubt that the sects of the middle ages were all of them anti-social and anti-Christian. Their distinctive practices were such as would now land them in the State's prison."

"But there is the Inquisition. The Inquisition was nothing more than a grand jury. Its functions were simply to find out if there were grounds for an indictment. The church very properly refused the State the right to judge as to the existence of heresy. It was the business of the church to search into the facts and having found them to deliver the guilty person to the secular arm."

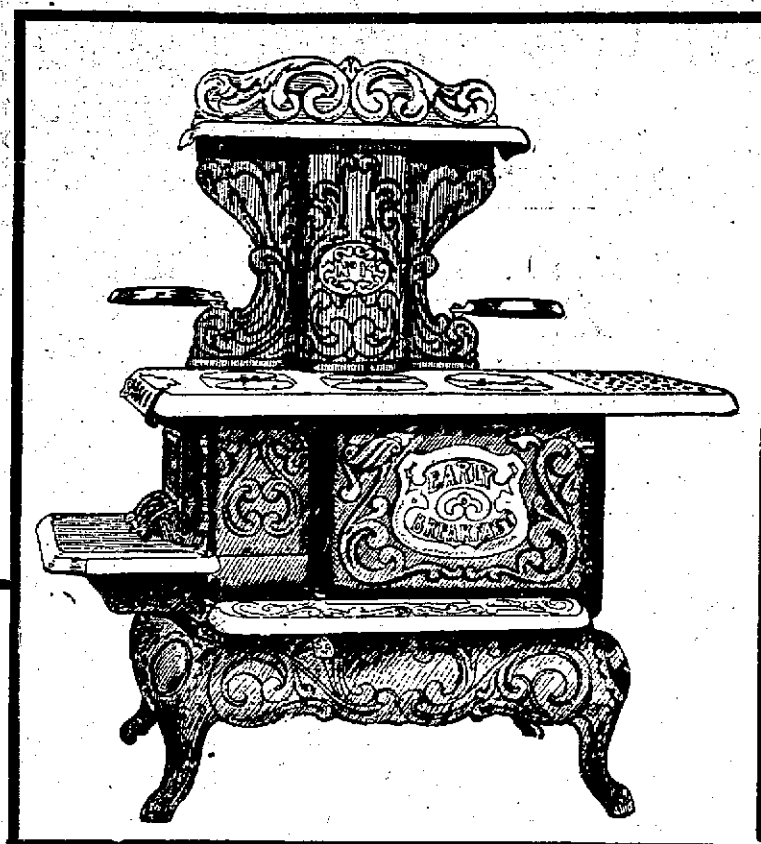

"As to the rise of torture it should be noticed that some form of torture has always been domestic or family. In America known as the sweat box. What more cruel, what more fiendish torture could be imagined than the tortures of the poor, helpless, friendless Italian woman in San Francisco, yet with one or two honorable exceptions, what voice is raised against it? If such things can be done in our day why should we consider the rougher methods of the middle ages peculiarly the result of Catholic teaching?"

"The church's care for learning is found not only in the opening of Catholic schools and the founding of sixty-six universities but in the significant fact that she has been steadily building up a university endowment in Europe is church money."

"Who shall speak of the great Catholics, the great painters? Human philosophy flowered in Thomas Aquinas and literature in Dante. The Trades Guild had reached and enjoyed under ecclesiastical protection the heights to which our unions of today so laboriously aspire. Indeed the more things have been achieved, but this is certain—men had their hands on electricity, on steam, on machinery and were ready to use them when the old social system was widely broken up and the reformation threw back the progress of civilization three hundred years."

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WEAK?

Thousands of Men and Women Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

To Prove What the Great Kidney Remedy, Swamp Root Will Do for YOU, Every Reader of the Tribune May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Absolutely Free by Mail.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected, and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty. If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone. I was out of health and run down generally, had no appetite, was dizzy and suffered with headache most of the time. I did not know that my kidneys were the cause of my trouble, but somehow felt that they might be, and I began taking Swamp Root. There is such a pleasant taste to Swamp Root, and it goes right to the spot and drives disease out of the system. It has cured me, making me stronger and better in every way, and I cheerfully recommend it to all sufferers. Gratefully yours, MRS. A. L. WALKER, 331 East Linden St. Atlanta, Ga.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for many kinds of diseases, and if permitted to continue much suffering and fatal results are sure to follow. Kidney trouble irritates the nerves, makes you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable. Makes you pass water often during the day and obliges you to get up many times during the night. Unhealthy kidneys cause rheumatism, gravel, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints and muscles; makes your head ache and back ache, cause indigestion, stomach and liver trouble, you get a yellow, sallow complexion, make you feel as though you had heart trouble; you may have plenty of ambition, but no strength; get weak and waste away. The cure for these troubles is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the most famous remedy for kidney trouble. In taking Swamp Root you afford natural help to Nature, for Swamp Root is the most perfect healer and gentle aid to the kidneys that is known to medical science.

How to Find Out

If there is any doubt in your mind as to your condition, take from your urine on rising about four ounces, place it in a glass or bottle and let it stand for twenty-four hours. If on examination it is milky or cloudy, if there is a brick-dust settling, or if small particles float about in it, your kidneys are in need of immediate attention.

Swamp Root is pleasant to take and is used in the leading hospitals, recommended by physicians in their private practice, and is taken by doctors themselves who have kidney ailments, because they recognize in it the greatest and most successful remedy for kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

EDITORIAL NOTE.—So successful is Swamp Root in promptly curing even the most obstinate cases of kidney, liver or bladder troubles, that its wonderful merits you may have a sample bottle and a book of valuable information, both sent absolutely free by mail. MAKES A DEFENSE FOR THE ITALIANS.

Declares That Mafia is Given Too Much Credit For Crime --The Vilardo Case.

The following has been forwarded to THE TRIBUNE with the request that it be published: "San Francisco, April 12, 1905. "L. F. Byington, Esq., District Attorney, San Francisco, Cal.—Dear Sir: I note in the newspapers of recent date that, as chief law officer of this city and county, you, with a number of alleged peace officers, during the present week, engaged in dragging a defenseless, shrieking woman, known as Rosa Vilardo, to the City Morgue to force her to look upon the dismembered remains of Blagio Vilardo in a futile attempt to extort from her a confession of complicity in a crime that would spoil a sensational newspaper story. If it were not by her confession asserted to be the work of the terrible Mafia, which ignorant people commonly believe to consist of more than one-half the Italian population, I have also observed that the woman has been dragged to different places of the city in an obvious effort to extort such a confession from her. "I also observe that these outrages upon common decency were contrived and carried into effect through your contrivance and suggestion; and while I hope that the murderer will be caught and dealt with as the law deserves, I am self-assured that no well-informed and impartial citizen will concur with the low-down sleuths in the idea that an outrage committed in violation of the law justifies another outrage committed by the officers of the law. The conduct of your office in this matter certainly demands a stern rebuke by every person possessed of a conception of those feelings which have any regard for the rights of a fellow-being, whether it be a mother tortured to the death by making a false confession of an unborn child carried to the scenes of murder and into the presence of death.

"I think, if you had rightly engaged the duties of your office, to discover the motive for the killing of Blagio Vilardo and applied even less strenuous measures to persuade the brother of the dead man to tell all he knows about the matter, you would have been before me convinced that the Mafia in the case was a myth, and that perhaps the dead man met his death as the reward of a carnal attempt to ruin the family of his friend. "At all events you would have discovered that the man who gives his name as Crespino Vilardo, but who on oath swears that his true name is Crespino Pietro Antonio Vilardo, is also known by other names in different localities. You would have also found that at this very time he has a divorce suit pending in the Superior Court of this city and county against Maria Maruzza Vilardo to dissolve his marriage with her, contracted at Suresport, La.

"It is a veracious fact, however, that the Mafia, the terrible Mafia, said to exist among the Italian population of this city, is obviously to be condemned for the killing of a man of the Vilardo class, and a part of the abhorrent scheme is the dragging of a defenseless wife into the presence of death, in a heartless attempt to extort a confession from her that at once would require the Italian population of this city to defend themselves against the charge that their terrible Mafia was responsible for the crime in which her confession, whether true or false, would involve them.

"It is susceptible of proof that a Mafia is a group of men by oath bound together for the purpose of revenge. We have such groups in American society. They are known where in the settlement of their feuds they murder each other indiscriminately. Moreover, the recent murder of the Governor of Kentucky proves that a Mafia can exist for purposes other than revenge; but no man can truthfully assert that a large number of the American people were directly responsible for the murder of Governor Gobel.

"The sensational press has painted the murder of Blagio Vilardo in vivid colors, as though it had no parallel in criminal history. The purpose being to brand the Italian people as a murdering class; but we must not forget that we have had Americans who have committed most atrocious crimes.

"We have had a Frank Belew, who to secure their estates murdered his own brother and sister with water poisoned with large quantities of arsenic; and, while his brother lay dead beside him, the fiend held the hand of his dying sister and constantly fed her the poisoned fluid to quench her raging thirst. The dead body of Vilardo felt not the severing of the head and limbs from the trunk, but the murdering friends the wretched fiend fed the poison to his dying sister until death silenced her cries for water.

"Would it be right to wrench a false confession from Belew that a Mafia was implicated in his crime? Yet this is precisely what your office is obviously attempting to do in the Vilardo case, with the exception that a mother carrying a child in her arms is tortured by means that are reprehensible in the extreme.

"I could go on and enumerate the murders committed by Theodore Durant, the slaughter and burning of his relatives by Adolph Weber and many other atrocious crimes to show and to prove that very many fiendish murders have been committed by Americans other than of Italian descent; but, though a Mafia may be implicated in some of the crimes, the American people are in no way implicated in the guilt of the murderers, and what is true of the native-born population is equally true of our adopted citizens, whatever may be their nationality. Respectfully yours, "ALVA UDELL, "623 Montgomery street, S. F."

RAMONA WILL BE PLAYED AT MACDONOUGH.

VIRGINIA CALHOUN AS RAMONA.

"Ramona" in dramatic form after the most interesting book by Helen Hunt Jackson dramatized for the stage by Miss Virginia Calhoun and acted by her and her supporting company, is the attraction at the Macdonough Theater tomorrow and Saturday nights and Saturday matinee. The play is made up with five acts and six scenes following most closely the principal scenes of the book. The first act shows the death of Ramona during the early mass where Ramona is ostracized from the Morongo household and the second scene of the same act is where Ramona and Alessandro confess their love for each other. The second act is in Ramona's bedroom where she elopes with Alessandro. The third act is their home at Palo during their wedding anniversary and the second and third scenes of this act show the death of Senora Morongo and the execution of Ramona and Alessandro from their home at Palo. The fourth act is a mad scene showing the great Indian Ramonito scene which is one of the most dramatic scenes ever seen on stage and shows Ramonito in search of Alessandro and the scene where the Americans accuse Alessandro of being a murderer. The fifth and last act which is in one scene shows the interior of the old San Gabriel Church. Monte Vista. It appeared in 1850 and in this act is where Ramona decides to go into the convent.

All the scenic equipment for this play is entirely new and is said to exceed in grandeur anything seen on the local stage for many days. The sets are selling rapidly and undoubtedly "Ramona" will repeat the success of all the other cities it has visited. A bargain matinee will be given on Saturday.

LIONEL BARRYMORE.

The novelty of the characters that Augustus Thomas introduces in "The Other Girl" as well as the cleanliness and unquestioned quality of the fun has made the piece the most popular comedy that this playwright has yet written, and the first stellar appearance in this city of Lionel Barrymore under the management of Charles Frohman at the Macdonough Theater next Monday and Tuesday nights is calling for great attention from theatergoers. It is declared that laughter is incessant from curtain rise to fall. The merry scene of the introduction of the gentleman pugilist by mistake into a fashionable New York household, the discovery by the dignified dandyman that he has through error been dining with a pugilist and a music hall singer, the appearance of the young clubman under the influence of a pugilist and the almost interminable confusion in which Thomas places his characters and draws them out of their humorous opportunity for hearty laughter. Seats are now on sale.

"LA GIACONDA" IS SONG TO CROWDED HOUSE.

Caruso in Wonderful Voice—Nordica Outshines All of Her Past Glories.

The banner Italian performance of the "Comed opera" season was given last night when "La Giacinda" was sung to a crowded house. With Caruso as Enzo and Nordica as La Giacinda and the support of Homer, Scotti and Journe, it was a cast long to be remembered.

Caruso will be treasured in the hearts of local opera goers as the most perfect tenor ever heard. His voice, so full of grace, feeling, tenderness, poetry and, underlying all, the tense note of passion, is so pure, so beautiful, that it is wonderful to think of it as being possessed by a human being.

There was never a forced note, a forged expression—his voice sounded as the smooth rippling of the brook or the powerful battle of a mighty torrent. But with it all it was natural, harmonious, magnetic, wonderful. He was not one master, he was many in one. He was all we expected of him and more. He eclipsed all his other successes and triumphs by his interpretation of the role of Enzo.

And he was ably supported. Nordica, too, outshone all her past glories and came to us last night, as a new, a glorified Nordica—a divine La Giacinda. Is it the magnetism, the hypnotic power of Caruso that so inspires those that sing with him? Surely he has some power over his fellow artists as well as over the audiences who come to hear him!

At any rate, Nordica was more sympathetic than we have ever known her before. Some of the gentler moods of La Giacinda were last night rendered with a voice full of tenderness and pathos. Her voice, so full and round, has not been strained by her singing of the heavier Wagnerian roles, as was feared by many of her admirers, would be the result of her devotion to the German master's compositions.

The quality of Louise Homer's contralto voice is something very rare and very beautiful. It showed particularly in her duets with Caruso, where the two voices blended with a singular beauty and gave that third which comes from perfect accord. Miss Homer added a great deal to the dramatic power of the performance, albeit as Laura she had much of the sentimental part of the work in her charge.

Mrs. Jacoby as La Cieca and Scotti as Barnaba gave added delight to this delightful wonderful presentation of "La Giacinda." Journe as Adviser was all that one could desire. He is always so sure of his musical forceful voice, and last night he sang splendidly. When the ballet came in for a share of the honors last night, Was, San Francisco in a particularly gracious mood, or was it really that it was all so excellent? But the ballet was good and a pleasant diversion, waking applause that was so spontaneous, so hearty that we know that the audience enjoyed it. "Tonight" "Die Fledermaus" that delightful comic opera of Richard Strauss, will be the attraction, and Sembrich, the versatile, the enchanting, will sing the role of the coquette Rosalinde. Miss Marie Weed is to sing the part of Prince Orlofski. Bella Alten will be the soubrette, Adele Dippel will be the delightfully droll Gabriel von Eisenstein; while Gortz will personate the tormented Frank.

Incredible Brutality.

It would have been incredible brutality if Chas. F. Lemberger, of Syracuse, N. Y., had not done the best he could for his suffering son. "My boy," he says, "cut a fearful gash over his eye, so I applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which quickly healed it and saved his eye. Good for burns and ulcers, too. Only 25c at Osgood's, Druggists, 12th and Washington and 7th and Broadway.

NAN SEES HER SISTER

Pathetic Meeting at the Tombs Prison in New York.

NEW YORK, April 13.—A continuance was asked by the Morgan Smiths through their attorney, to permit them an opportunity to examine the minutes of the grand jury which indicted them on the conspiracy charge. Abraham Levy, counsel for Nan Patterson, a co-defendant with the Smiths and who also is awaiting trial for the murder of Caesar Young, requested to be heard in the proceedings. The court finally gave Mr. Levy one day instead of two, in which to notify the district attorney, making the motion revocable tomorrow. At that time arguments will be made and Miss Patterson will be arraigned on the charge of conspiracy.

Before being taken to the Tombs Smith made a statement in which he said:

"I am very glad to be back in New York. The name of my family has been besmirched. I have not had a chance to clear it, but I will."

Several persons who were called by the prosecution as witnesses at the last trial of Nan Patterson and who were expected by the district court to identify Smith as the man mentioned in their testimony, were in court when the hearing was arranged today. Among them was Hyman Stern, the pawnbroker who sold the revolver with which Caesar Young was killed. Before going into court Stern said he was doubtful if he could positively identify Smith. He said he saw so many people in his business it was impossible to remember them all. After he had seen Smith, Stern today said:

"What I said before about not being positive goes."

There was an affecting scene when Nan Patterson and her sister met in the Tombs prison. When last they saw each other they occupied an apartment together in an up-town hotel. Today both were prisoners. Miss Patterson had gained the consent of the warden to see Mrs. Smith as soon as she was brought to the prison. They were left alone, standing with their arms around each other's shoulders weeping bitterly. As the attorneys and several prison officials stood outside the room, J. Randolph Patterson, the aged father of the prisoners, joined the group. He pleaded with the warden not to separate the girls.

Warden Flynn said he would do all he could, and has arranged to have the prisoners on the same tier in the woman's prison.

GERMANY ALL ALONE

PARIS, April 13.—Germany's efforts to secure an international conference on the Moroccan question do not cause further apprehension here as the government is aware that practically all the powers having any political interest in Morocco would not participate.

This applies to France, Great Britain, Spain, Italy, and Russia and the other European powers have little or no interest in Morocco. Consequently Germany would be practically alone in favoring or participating in an international gathering. It is assumed that the neutral attitude of the United States will probably lead her to withhold participation if it is deemed that the conference would do all she could, and has arranged to have the prisoners on the same tier in the woman's prison.

The French authorities therefore do not attach further serious importance to the international conference movement, being convinced that it is doomed in advance to failure. Germany's plans concerning the suggested conference have not yet taken a definite form.

The first reports which reached Paris indicated that Germany herself planned to call a conference but it now appears that Germany seeks to have the Sultan of Morocco call a conference.

Either plan is unacceptable to the authorities here, particularly the latter, as it would give the Sultan another pretext to put off his reply, which France is now awaiting relative to the adoption of the Moroccan question.

Moreover, the proposition to call an international conference is based upon the theory of ignoring French policy in Morocco under the Anglo-French agreement and turning over the Moroccan question to a congress of the powers.

Such an abandonment of French policy is not entertained in any quarter here.

Official despatches received from Tangier today confirm the reports that Count von Tattenbach-Ashold, former German Minister to Morocco, has called on the members of the diplomatic corps and informed them that he has been appointed temporary Charge d' Affaires pending the arrival of the German Minister, Dr. Rosen.

The official despatches received here from Tangier do not confirm the report that Count von Tattenbach-Ashold has special instructions ordering him to open negotiations direct with the Sultan of Morocco.

Renewed tension is expected if Germany undertakes to send a mission to Fez, as the officials here say the effect of such a mission would be seriously to prejudice the success of the French negotiations which are now reaching their final stage.

SAIL FOR ARCTIC.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—The ships Oriental, Sea Witch and Standard and the schooner Miraph of the North Alaska Salmon Company's fleet sailed today for the Arctic.

All four vessels were carefully searched by the police, as it was thought that Torturici, the supposed murderer, might try to get away by shipping on one of these boats. No arrest, however, was made.

A large number of Chinamen went north for the summer's work in the canneries.

ANXIOUS FOR PEACE

Italy Will Offer Mediation
When the Proper Time Arrives.

ROME, April 13.—Signors Romussi and Santini interpellated the government in the Chamber Deputies today on the advisability of Italy offering mediation looking to peace in the Far East. Under Foreign Secretary Fusinato replied that the Italian government was favorable to peace, but in order to be able to offer mediation it must have certain assurance that the belligerents are ready to accept mediation, which is not the case at present.

ATTORNEY IN PRISON

Held in Confinement on a Charge of Contempt
of Court.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Inquiry at the State Department into the report which reached San Francisco by one of the southern steamers to the effect that a man named Gardner is being illegally imprisoned in Guatemala develops the fact that the person is really an American lawyer named Joseph Darling, and that he has actually been in confinement for about a month.

WANTS CHANGE IN NAVAL PROGRAM

PARIS, April 13.—In the Senate today Minister of Marine Thomson, answering Baron d'Estournelles de Constant, who in a speech yesterday urged the military and naval disarmament of the states of Europe by a proportional reduction of their forces similar to the joint disarmament of Chile and Argentina, said the idea of naval disarmament would be visionary as long as Great Britain, the United States and Germany continued to strengthen their fleets. Already the fleets of Great Britain and the United States surpassed that of France, and the fleet of Germany was about equal to that of France. Therefore it was essential to adopt a comprehensive naval program for replacing old ships.

Following the Minister's speech the Senate adopted the naval budget bill calling for an expenditure of $24,200,000.

AFTER A JUSTICE.
ALBANY, N. Y., April 13.—The removal of Justice Warren B. Hooker from the Supreme Court bench of the State of New York by a concurrent resolution of the Senate and Assembly was the conclusion drawn from the evidence given before the Assembly Judiciary Committee and presented to the committee in an argument today by former Deputy Attorney-General Henry B. Coman, counsel for the committee of inquiry. Mr. Coman read his conclusions of fact, embracing six different postoffice appointments, the Dunkirk postoffice leases and the judgment against the city of Dunkirk. In each of these Mr. Coman declared that the conduct of Justice Hooker was immoral and tended to submit the administration of justice by Judge Hooker on the bench to contempt and disgrace.

NO MONEY TO TRAVEL

Murderer of Vilardo Still Manages to Evade
the Police.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—Pietro Torturici, who is suspected of the murder of Biaggio Vilardo, has not yet been arrested, though every effort for his apprehension is being made.

Some credence is being placed in the report that an Italian answering his description had bought a railroad ticket for Kansas City in San Jose on Saturday, the officials of the Eastern city have been notified to be on the lookout for the suspect. A number of detectives, however, are inclined to doubt this story. They point out that Torturici had little or no money, and that his friends were of the poorer class.

It is the general belief that Torturici is still in this city. Vilardo will be buried tomorrow in the Holy Cross cemetery.

Archie Briselle will appear for trial in Superior Judge Cook's Court on the charge of murdering Giuseppe Brocardo on the night of January 2d, last. It is believed by many that the murder of Vilardo grew out of the Brocardo tragedy, as witnesses for the prosecution in the Brocardo murder case have been intimidated. Vilardo was a close friend and fellow townsman of Brocardo, and with Brocardo's cousin, Benedetto Frattini, and bore the expenses of Brocardo's funeral.

MUST ANSWER FOR ASSAULT

The five Alameda youths who, without provocation last Sunday, assailed Oscar Triplett, a conductor on the Haywards line, were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Gosney yesterday.

A. F. St. Sure of Alameda appeared for the accused young men, and entered a plea of not guilty to each of the three charges against them.

The case of Thomas Lohse was set for April 20. The cases of the other four defendants—Nat. Jehu, A. D. Goldsworthy, Chauncey Pratt and Clarence Willis—were not definitely set.

Triplett, with his head covered with bandages, was in court accompanied by W. P. Granzback, the motorman. Owing to the aggravated nature of the case, Judge Gosney fixed bonds at $400 each. Triplett has sworn to a charge of battery and disturbing the peace, and Granzback to a charge of battery against each of the defendants.

The five men held Triplett and beat him almost into insensibility because he demanded their car fare.

KIND WORDS FOR PRES. ROOSEVELT

LONDON, April 12.—In the course of a speech today Mr. Chamberlain dealt at some length with fiscal matters, and the necessity for Great Britain adopting a system whereby she could retaliate against discrimination and enter into closer commercial bonds with the colonies.

"At the present moment," he said, "the President of the United States is one of the ablest, one of the strongest and one of the most courageous men who ever sat in the Presidential chair. He is a patriot, and he has openly declared that one of his great objects and desires is to connect the United States more closely with our dominion of Canada by reciprocity. I do not know what success he may have with his countrymen, but certainly they are in a position to offer very favorable terms to the Dominion. If we reject the idea of considering a similar proposition made to us, it is too much to expect that Canada may turn in another direction."

SEPARATE THE CHURCH AND STATE.

PARIS, April 13.—The Chamber of Deputies today by 423 to 45 votes adopted Article 1 of the bill providing for the separation of church and state, as follows:

"The Republic assures the liberty of conscience and guarantees the free exercise of religion, the only restrictions being those in the interest of public order."

All the amendments were rejected.

The majority in favor of Article 1 was considered as showing the strength of the supporters of the measure.

ASTRONOMERS ARE ALL AT SEA

CHEERBOURG, France, Ad. 13.—It is reported here that an American scientific mission is coming to Cherbourg to investigate the curious phenomenon of a luminous body which appears nightly far seaward of this port. French astronomers have investigated it without result.

PEASANTS SEIZED LAND.
ST. PETERSBURG, April 13.—The peasants at Odesa, recently seized the land of some of the big estates and proceeded to divide it. Troops have been dispatched to the scene. Near Eysa the peasants demanded that the landlords cease to use agricultural machinery, and as their attitude became threatening Cossacks were required to disperse them.

An additional force of Cossacks has been dispatched to Saratoff to quell the agrarian movement there.

TRIED TO SUICIDE

Chinese Attempts to Hang Himself With His Queue.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—Louise Dip, a Chinese highbinder held at the City Prison for assault to murder, made a desperate attempt to end his life in his cell this morning. He passed the end of his queue through the grating in the cell door, fastened the end about his neck and then raised his feet from the floor, hoping to die of strangulation. But he was discovered before any great injury was inflicted and was then transferred to a cell where all his movements could be carefully watched. Later he was removed to the Central Emergency Hospital, where he will be examined by the insanity Commissioners.

PROTEST MADE TO BOARD

DO NOT WANT JEFFERSON PARK
USED FOR SCHOOL
SITE.

The following was filed with the Board of Public Works yesterday.

Oakland, April 13, 1905.

To the Honorable, the Board of Public Works, of the city of Oakland, Gentlemen:—Your petitioners having been informed that your Honorable Body has taken such action as will cause the removal of an old building onto the Jefferson Park, to be used as a public school house:

Therefore we, the undersigned, property holders living in the vicinity of said park, most earnestly protest to your Honorable Body against any further action being taken, and pray your Honorable Body will rescind what has already been done in that direction and for the following reasons:

When Col. Jack Hayes, Mr. Caperton and others, the original owners of this portion of the Peralta Grant, conveyed to our grantors the lots we now own, embodied in the deeds these words: "To be used and to be all the streets in parks within that Kellersburger Survey, to use the same for the purpose for the said survey were dedicated by the original owners."

And to make our case stronger is the fact that the original owners, conveyed by deed the title in fee of that park to the city with the proviso in the deed that it should be used for a park and no other purpose.

And further we protest because we believe that such action will tend to depreciate in value, by disfiguring the beauty of the park with that of a building and bringing near our homes the noise and clamor of a public school.

And for these and other reasons we hope your Honorable Body will grant our petition and your petitioners will ever pray.

The petition is signed by about fifty property owners.

MAY GO INSANE

Police Fear to Take Child
Away From Mrs.
Torturici.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—Grave fears are entertained that Mrs. Rosa Torturici may lose her mind as a result of the terrible mental strain she has undergone since last Wednesday night, when her husband, Pietro Torturici, brutally murdered Biaggio Vilardo.

It is for this reason that the police have decided not to take the distracted woman's child away from her. She clings to this little one with a fierce devotion, never permitting it to be taken more than an arm's length from her.

It is believed that if the child were torn from her even for a short time the woman would go violently insane.

Drastic measures for extracting a confession from Mrs. Torturici have been exhausted, with this exception. She now has settled down into a stolid, sullen state, where she repeats the same story in all material details that she told the detectives on the day of her arrest, last Saturday.

THE LOST WILL

How many times have we read in fact and fiction of the troubles that were caused by the losing of a will. It had been put away years before—securely of course—but when the hour arrived for it to be opened it could not be found. Then followed months of quarreling, litigation lasting sometimes for years, and quite frequently the estate, which was designed to pass into the hands of certain people passed into the hands of others. This is an old, old story. A generation ago there was even some defense for hiding a will in a secret drawer or in a panel closet even for burying it in a tin can beneath the cellar floor. That was before the time of safety deposit vaults. Now there is no excuse for allowing a will or any other paper or article of value to be surrounded with the least possible element of danger.

Four dollars a year is a very small sum of money to pay for all the insurance that can be obtained from the judicious expenditures of tens of thousands of dollars. The safety vaults of the Central Bank cost a fortune—but they are worth every cent that was paid. Each year they doubtless save fortunes to those who take advantage of them. It is your privilege to rent an individual box capable of holding all the valuable papers, heirlooms and such like that the ordinary person possesses. You have an individual key, all the conveniences of a perfectly appointed parlor in which to transact any business you may wish—and all for one dollar per quarter.

CONSOLIDATION OF S. F. STOCK EXCHANGES.

W. J. Arkell Gives Banquet in Palace Hotel--Leading Brokers Seated at the Tables.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—The first step toward the consolidation of the two stock exchanges of San Francisco was taken last night at the Palace Hotel.

The occasion was a dinner party tendered to the leading members of the two exchanges by W. J. Arkell, in the Maple Room of the hotel.

Mr. Arkell came here from Albany, N. Y., last December and engaged in the mining business, largely in the Tonopah Home. He is the late owner of the Albany, New York, Evening Journal, and Frank Leslie, and Judge of New York and has been the inaugural spirit in the organization of several of the largest corporations in America.

Announcement was made that the Tonopah Home is about to be taken over by a new corporation. The old corporation was incorporated with a capital stock of $1,000,000, the shares being $100 each. The new company will have a capitalization of $5,000,000, with 500,000 shares at the par value of $10 each. There will be a consolidation of seven other properties situated on the inside of the Tonopah fields with the Tonopah Home, thus making it one of the strongest mining corporations on the coast.

One block of the stock of 100,000 shares will be underwritten by New York and San Francisco bankers. From the names of the directors it will be seen that some of the largest financial institutions of the country are interested in the formation of this new company, and that it will be strictly a business affair.

DIRECTORS

The Board of Directors of the new company are Joseph Leiter, Chicago, W. O. Manson, connected with the American Smelting and Refining Co.; U. S. Senator Geo. S. Nixon of Winemucca, Nev. T. L. Oddie, president of the Nye and Ormsby, Geo. N. O'Brien, secretary and treasurer, cashier of the American National Bank of San Francisco, which is to be the registrar of the company; H. B. Gee, cashier of the State Bank and Trust Company of Tonopah; ex-Congressman S. D. Woods of Stockton; B. L. Smith, a prominent banker and mine owner of Elko, Nev.; Adolphus Busch of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Co., St. Louis; Mo. J. W. Skelton, banker and stock broker of Tonopah, and one of the largest sheep owners in Montana and Idaho Counties; Bank, one of the wealthiest mining men at Tonopah and Goldfield; Col. S. A. Knapp of Tonopah; Dr. Seward Webb of New York; Robert C. Hall of Pittsburgh; W. J. Douglas, president of Tonopah Midway Co.

TOASTMASTER

W. J. Arkell acted as toastmaster and responses were made by Senator W. C. Ralston, Robert C. Hall of Pittsburgh, Pa., Hon. S. D. Woods of Stockton, H. B. Clark of Bullfrog, Nev. Supervisor Samuel G. Braunhart, W. C. Wise of San Francisco and Nat. Boas of San Francisco.

The consensus of opinion was that the mining interests of the coast would be best subserved by consolidation and unification of interests. It would place the business on a higher plane, more rigid rules could be enforced and Eastern methods of finance introduced. This will have a tendency to instill greater confidence in legitimate mining operations and attract public attention throughout the world to it.

IN INFANCY

It has long been a recognized fact that the mining of precious metals on the Pacific Coast is but in its infancy and that the mineral lodes have barely been scratched as yet. The opening up of the Tonopah and Goldfield fields are a good illustration of this fact.

Harmony on the part of the interested ones will do much toward attracting Eastern and foreign capital and extending the fields of operations very materially.

During the course of the evening Mr. Arkell made the statement that it was the immense and recognized possibilities in the mining operations which led him and his associates to seek investments for capital in the gold fields of the far West, particularly those of

APPEARING OLD

Acts as a Bar to Profitable Employment.

You cannot afford to grow old. In these days of strenuous competition it is necessary to maintain, as long as possible, one's youthful appearance. It is impossible to do this without retaining a vigorous growth of hair. The presence of dandruff indicates the presence of a burrowing growth of the hair until it causes total baldness.

Newbro's Herpicide is the only known destroyer of the pest, and it is as effective as it is delightful to use. Herpicide makes an elegant hair dressing as well as dandruff cure. Accept no substitute—there is none. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Company, Detroit, Michigan. Bowman & Company, special agents.

Nevada, which for quartz mining gives promises of being the greatest State in the Union. Particularly do the quartz veins about Tonopah give these promises.

The new corporation will have the largest acreage of any company operating in these fields.

The properties selected will form a circle around the very core of the gold fields of Tonopah. It will therefore be seen that in its operations it will be certain that every one of the leading veins will be reached and worked. By this move successful operations will be assured.

The possibilities for results are so great that they cannot even be conjectured at the present time.

One thing is almost sure, every human feature of chance has been eliminated. That was conceded by all who attended the dinner last night, which gives promise of having marked a most important epoch in Pacific Coast mining history both by the steps taken toward consolidation of the two stock exchanges and the launching of this gigantic enterprise.

It was seven o'clock when the guests sat down to table, and eleven-thirty before they arose. The party was a jovial one and all who participated seemed to be filled with the spirit of harmony rather than that of jealous rivalry.

After the menu had been discussed and the inner man had been placed in its happiest condition, Mr. Arkell arose and spoke in part as follows:

MR. ARKELL

"Gentlemen and Friends: Many of you are wondering why I gave this dinner. I will tell you. I will be frank and open and take you into my confidence. Strange as it may seem to you I have decided to come and live in California and Nevada for the next two years at least.

"First because I believe that if a person lives in this locality he can arrive at the age of 100 and feel and act as a New Yorker would at 50.

"Second, I think the opportunities here are greater than those in New York and I am after some of those opportunities.

"I wish to enlighten you on one subject, I am no longer an unsophisticated publisher and a manufacturer of jokes. I have gone back into my old business of mining and the manufacture of its securities, and incidentally will do a brokerage business at the Merchants' Exchange Building of this city. While looking over your field here I find two Exchanges, both filled with fine fellows, but neither Exchange large enough to fill the wants of both. It seems to me a pity that you do not bury what little feeling that you have about the old Comstocks and the New Tonopahs and come together and have one large whopping Exchange. It seems to me foolish to draw the lines as you do that a little boundary line mark should change your feelings about deals in securities. It makes no difference to me if I can get an order to buy or sell sugar stock located in Honolulu or Tonopah Home stock located in Nevada if I can clean up a fair margin. My theory is spread out and get the business and do not try to pick out a few members to go in one Exchange or another, take them over as a bodyguard clean up the affair in a good whole souled way and I will assure you that it will be many years before another Exchange could start and get any foothold here in this town.

GIVES EXAMPLE.

"Did you ever see a farmer with a wagon filled with potatoes. When the wagon was first filled it was with both large and small potatoes mixed together. When the wagon arrives in town you would find that the little potatoes had found their way to the bottom of the wagon while the large ones remain on top. I have often heard grocers say that the wily farmer sorted these, it is not so, it is only law and gravitation. The large ones come on top and the small ones go to the bottom. It is the same way in all lines of business, whether he be a broker or a financier, a railroad president, a musician or a manager of a circus. Just think this over and see if the advice is not well worth taking. Before giving you my real reason and what I desire to give this dinner for, I will tell you three little stories which I have been asked to do by one of my guests.

My first lecture story.

The Bath Tub story.

The Umbrella story.

"Tonopah Home is familiar to you all, the stock has a most wonderful career. In 1904 the stock sold as low as one cent per share, today the stock is selling at nearly 40 cents. I have paid as low as 2 1/2 cents per share for the stock and I have paid as high as 14 cents for the stock, and

I will assure you that my entire holdings today average me a price much greater than the stock was brought out for and at a ratio that would be surprising to you. Tonopah Home will make its debut to the public some time next month, it will be absorbed by the Tonopah Home Consolidated Mines and Exploration Co. This company will have a capital of $5,000,000 with a par value of $10 each. Holders of Tonopah Home stock will receive one share of this new stock for ten shares of the old or a fraction thereof. The people who are managing this proposition have decided to offer from the treasury one million of its capital stock at $450 per share and the house of W. J. Arkell & Co. will be allotted one-third of this, so the balance of it will be underwritten in the East. After the said subscriptions are closed the stock will be listed on both of the Stock Exchanges here as well as in New York City, and I assure you that it will be brought out at a higher figure than the subscription price that it is offered at.

MONEY MAKER.

"No one firm in this city will be allowed to subscribe to a greater extent than $20,000 of this subscription and if you want to purchase any of the subscription, you will be notified in due time and I personally will be glad to see any of the members here supplied with the necessary stock and from a business standpoint I honestly believe it will be a money-making proposition. Tonopah Home Consolidated Mines and Exploration Company will shortly be the largest acreage owned by any one corporation in Tonopah and I believe that it will develop the best mines in the famous territory. I thank you for attending this dinner tonight and in closing I wish to say that if any brother members have any orders that they cannot fill and they think that I can fill them for them, I will be only too delighted to do so and I desire to say that my telephone number is Main 665."

MEANS BUSINESS.

That the consolidation of these mining interests means "business" in the strictest significance of the term may be taken from Mr. Arkell's extensive operations in the East. Besides his extensive newspaper interests Mr. Arkell was the organizer of the American Locomotive Corporation. The stock of this corporation was underwritten at $10 and is now selling at $170 per share. The American Chuklet Company was another institution which he brought into being. This company is better known as the Chewing Gum Trust, one of its large factories being now in San Francisco. The stock of this company was underwritten at $80 per share and is now selling at $140.

The American Bag Company, the National Talc Company and several other equally as large corporations were his creation.

On being asked the question why he has been able to bring so many successful corporations into being he modestly remarked:

"Because of the fact that I have confidence in the outcome when I go into an enterprise. I look over the field very carefully at the outset and once I conclude that the field will be a profitable one I do not hesitate to give the enterprise an endorsement, which secures the necessary capital to conduct operations in such a manner that failure is entirely unlikely and on this account I have made one motto in business transactions, which is that any securities that I bring out will be taken back at the underwritten price within a year if the purchase has been made through the bank that has underwritten the stock."

THOUGHT BUGGY WAS HIS BED

C. H. Harrison of San Jose had a merry time in this city during his two hours' residence and this morning Police Judge Smith thought that a fine of $2 or one day in jail would suit the case.

Harrison drove from San Jose to this city in a lively rig. Two hours of continuous drinking rendered him helpless and when he retired it was in his buggy on the public streets. He carefully hung his trousers on the dashboard, pulled his collar and tie around the whip, wrapped the buggy over him and went into the land of slumber. When discovered by Policeman McCready at Twelfth and Alice streets last night the horse was peacefully grazing along the lawn, pulling the buggy and sleeping occupant after him.

When McCready awakened the sleeper and found him in a partially disordered condition he lost no time in ringing for the police patrol.

Harrison was very much ashamed this morning when he faced Police Judge Smith and inquired tenderly about the welfare of the horse. When informed that the beast would be sent back to San Jose he seemed contented and went downstairs into the City Prison to serve his one day in jail with a beaming countenance.

PRISONER TAKEN BACK TO TRINIDAD

Deputy Sheriff E. A. Duling of Trinidad, Colo., left on last night's overland with Vidal Shoblo the prisoner for whom he had requisition papers. Yesterday morning Duling consented to wait over one day for Shoblo in order to give him an opportunity to dispose of a little grocery store he has established at Sixty-sixth and San Pablo avenue. They went out together yesterday morning and returned over the same route. The train left and told Jailer Harry Clark that they had concluded to leave Shoblo in Trinidad. He immediately telegraphed to a purchaser who has been found and also leave for Trinidad at once.

M'AULEY IS BITTEN BY VICIOUS HORSE.

Stallion Picks Him Up in His Teeth and Shakes Him Like a Rat.

While schooling a vicious stallion this morning Herbert McAuley, of 4837 Shattuck avenue was grabbed by the thigh and shaken by the horse and when he made his escape had to be taken to the Receiving Hospital, where it was found that the flesh had been deeply crushed by the animal's teeth and it will be some time before McAuley will be able to resume his work.

The horse turned while McAuley was in the act of fitting on the shoe to the hind foot and took hold of the fleshy part of the hip and lifted him and shook him, and was determined not to loosen his hold. McAuley cried out for help and his father, Adam McAuley, who conducts the shop on Sixth street, near Franklin, ran to his son's assistance and dealt the horse several welts over the head with a monkey wrench and the horse loosened his hold and McAuley was dragged out of harm's way.

The fleshy tissues of the leg were found to be badly broken up and the bite generally was one of the most severe treated at the hospital. The horse showed unusual strength and shook young McAuley as though he had no weight.

LACK OF KISSES JOKE NOW ON NO REASON O'CONNOR

ABSENCE OF AFFECTION IS NOT GROUNDS FOR DIVORCE.

After listening to the evidence in the case of Agnes V. Anderson, who is suing Joseph S. Anderson for divorce on the ground of cruelty for several days, Judge S. P. Hall last night decided that she had failed to make out a case and denied her a divorce.

Nervous with the strain she has been under Mrs. Anderson fainted in the court room and restorative had to be applied before she was able to leave the scene of her defeat.

In order to clean up the work before him before assuming his position as Judge of the new District Court of Appeals Judge Hall held a night session last night and it was nearly 11 o'clock when he finally announced his decision. The couple were married last April and in November Mrs. Anderson stated that she was forced to leave his home in Fruitvale against the wishes of her attorneys M. C. Chapman and J. J. Burke. Mrs. Anderson refused to testify that she had been driven out of her home and she refused to go with her to her mother's on Thanksgiving for dinner. She refused to go with her to her mother's on Thanksgiving for dinner. She refused to go with her to her mother's on Thanksgiving for dinner.

Judge Hall in giving his decision reviewed the facts that had been put before him and said that he was unable to say that the charges of cruelty had been sustained. From the evidence presented to him both parties had been somewhat in blame. The wife's charges that he had refused to let her go with her to her mother's on Thanksgiving for dinner. He did not consider was sufficient ground for dissolving the bonds. Because he refused to go with her to her mother's on Thanksgiving for dinner. He did not consider was sufficient ground for dissolving the bonds.

Anderson is the manager of the Appliance Water Company of San Francisco and has been four times married and three times divorced and this was his fourth appearance as a defendant in a divorce action. Three of his wives having been more fortunate in the courts than his fourth. Anderson was defended by Attorneys Peter J. Crosby and Anson Hilton of San Francisco.

IN MEMORIAN

Among the many sad events which has fallen like a pall upon this beautiful city is the untimely taking off of Mrs. Ethel Soule, in the morning of life and when all of her surroundings were a maze of joy and sunshine.

It seems but yesterday that Ethel Pomeroy and Beach Carter Soule approached the altar with their plighted vows to enter upon the journey of life in accordance with "God's holy ordinance," with all the hopes and buoyancy of youth and vigor. Today the last sad rites that mortality can bestow have been sorrowfully laid upon the tomb of the beautiful bride of yesterday, and all that is left to sad and loving hearts is the memory of the sunshine which has thus gone out of their lives forever.

The two beautiful children that are thus bereft of a mother's loving care will probably never know of the great sorrow which has overtaken them, and in this there is a grain of consolation amidst the pallor of gloom which has settled upon the hearts of all other relatives and friends. The true Christian faith of which Mrs. Soule was in life an ardent believer and consistent devotee, affords additional consolation in the knowledge that this ruthless separation is not permanent and that the grave is only the sepulchre of the flesh, and but the dawn of a new creation for the soul, where one day in the near future she will join her friends and loved ones in that beautiful home—"that house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

While we sorrowfully bear her casket to its long abode, let us upon her bier renew our faith and hope in the promise of Divine Providence that she is "not dead but sleeping" and has simply gone before to beckon her loved ones over the river to the final home of all.

BICYCLES STOLEN.

F. W. Sonderleiter reports that his sons' bicycle was stolen from the Franklin school yesterday.

Mrs. J. Clayton also reports the loss of a bicycle from the corner of Tenth and Washington streets.

GIVEN APPOINTMENT.

STOCKHOLM, April 13.—Councillor of State Ramstedt has been appointed Premier ad interim in place of former Premier Bostrom, who resigned April 8.

FRAUDULENT BEGGAR WILL HAVE TO SERVE SENTENCE DESPITE CUNNING.

The authorities at the Stockton Insane Asylum have notified the local police that John O'Connor, who escaped punishment on a charge of vagrancy by feigning insanity, was cured. O'Connor had served about a month of a ninety-day sentence when he grew tired of jail life and pretended to be insane. He was examined and sent to Stockton.

O'Connor was a beggar, and on the streets he had a sign which pronounced him to be deaf and dumb. He succeeded in maintaining the fraud until he was on the train bound for the State Hospital, when he broke forth in a loud laugh and told the deputy sheriff who was escorting him how he had fooled the public and the officials. He could talk as well as any person and did so for the rest of the trip.

The joke will now be on O'Connor, as he will be brought back to Oakland to serve the remainder of his sentence on a charge of vagrancy.

The prisoner is also known by the name of T. Cunningham.

APPEALS TO PUBLIC OPINION OF FRANCE

PARIS, April 13.—General Valentin, the Venezuelan fiscal agent, in the course of an interview published today, appeals to the public opinion of France in behalf of the course adopted by President Castro. He says the French Cable Company seeks to substitute force through government intervention for the usual procedure of the Venezuelan courts, and asserts that Venezuela's action against various foreign companies is due to their not fulfilling their engagements and lending support to the revolutionists.

"We would," General Valentin asked, "if she detested foreign accomplices of the plotters against the security of the state?"

The general maintains that France should take a sympathetic view of Venezuela's resisting the encroachment of foreign corporations.

BELGIUM SENDS U. S. A "BID"

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Through the Belgian Minister at Washington, Baron Moncheur, the Belgian government has formally invited this government to send an official delegation to participate in an international congress at Mons, Belgium, beginning September 1. The following topics will be discussed: "Commercial and Technical Education, Science, Statistics, and Political Economy, Customs, Tariffs, Navigation, Colonization, Diplomatic and Consular Service, and in general means of promoting commerce and civilization."

The invitation to the government has been supplemented by a circular note sent to the universities and colleges of America and to all institutions and persons interested in the study of economics and the social sciences. It is proposed that the Belgian legation at Washington is preparing to furnish them with full particulars.

MAY EXHIBIT LINCOLN'S HOME

PEORIA, Ill., April 13.—Fred Hand son of Judge Hand of the Supreme Court, and one of the Illinois Commissioners to the Lewis and Clark Exposition, said in an interview today that the commission was considering the reproduction of the home of Abraham Lincoln as the Illinois building at the exposition. It is proposed to use some of the original Lincoln furniture.

Right Rev. William Ford Nichols, D. D., will confirm a large class tonight at 8 o'clock at St. Paul's Church. The Bishop especially desires to meet as many as possible who were confirmed in the past few years.

GRANTED A DIVORCE.

Elise Brothers and Joseph E. Brothers are brothers and Joseph E. Brothers has been granted a divorce from her husband on the ground of his cruelty. They were married in 1902 and live at Berkeley. Shortly after their marriage he began a course of abuse which lasted until she finally left him. He swore at her and cursed her and struck her. She was allowed to resume her maiden name of Elise E. Williams.

Ellen J. Taber was granted an interlocutory decree for divorce this morning on the ground of cruelty. They were married at San Francisco, April 28, 1894. She was also allowed to resume her maiden name of Ellen Jones.

BEGIN A SUIT AGAINST THE S. P.

In order to recover possession of his portion of the estate of his late father, William A. Aldrich George Albert Aldrich has commenced suit in the Superior Court against his sisters Anna Aldrich Barton and Helen Aldrich Dunning, who were by the will made trustees of his share of the property which amounts to $50,000. Some time prior to the death of the father which occurred in 1892, Aldrich was declared incompetent and was sent to one of the State Hospitals. A few months ago he was restored to health, and has now asked for a division and separate possession of his share of the estate as left to him in his father's will. A satisfactory settlement has not been obtained up to this date and therefore, Aldrich has commenced suit.

MRS. SUSAN DAVIS DEAD

SISTER OF THE LATE SENATOR WILLIAM SHARON PASSES AWAY.

SAN JOSE, April 13.—Mrs. Susan Kirk Davis, wife of the late Senator William Sharon of Nevada, died yesterday at her home in this city, after an illness of a week. She was one of the best known women in this section and had hosts of friends in San Francisco, where two of her daughters, Mrs. John C. Kirkpatrick and Mrs. James M. Allen, reside. In the early days of mining on the Comstock Mrs. Davis lived in Virginia, Nev. She profited by investments in mining stock, and, accumulating a considerable fortune, she moved to this city, where she has resided for thirty years. Mrs. Davis was a native of Smithfield, O., and was 82 years of age. In addition to the daughters mentioned, her other children are Mrs. Charles McCoy of Oakland, Herbert Davis of Australia, William Davis and Mrs. George Hildreth, of this city.

CANNOT TAKE THE PARK

TALIESIN EVANS SAYS BOARD OF WORKS CANNOT GIVE USE OF PLAZAS.

Editor TRIBUNE:—I notice in tonight's TRIBUNE a protest from certain citizens against the use of Jefferson Park as a site for a public school house, which the Board of Public Works is alleged to be contemplating. Let me say that neither the Board of Public Works nor any other branch of the city government has a right to use any public square or park in the municipality for any purpose foreign to its dedication. Every plot of land which the city possesses as a public park was dedicated expressly for park purposes and none other, save the two parks on which the County Court House and the City Receiving Hospital stand. The Board of Education, has, it is true, occupied Lafayette Square with the Chabot Observatory, but it is a clear case of usurpation, and the time will come when the Observatory will have to be removed. The same Board, at one time, alienated Harrison square, but it was forced to vacate the premises. There is no sense in the Board of Public Works attempting to plant a school house on any other structure in Jefferson square and force the public to go through the irritating experience of compelling the municipal government to restore the ground to the purposes of its original dedication. ZIMMERMAN TO HAVE A HEARING

MARTINEZ, April 13.—The preliminary hearing of John Zimmerman, alleged to be one of the two highwaymen who robbed John Daly of $10,000 in gold and silver coin on the San Francisco highway while he was conveying the money, in company with Frank J. Roche, to the Bank of California from the Central Bank of Oakland, has been set for Saturday morning, before Justice of the Peace D. Carpenter. Zimmerman's attorney, represented by M. R. Jones, a local attorney, Sheriff Voile spent the day in San Francisco attending to the gathering evidence for the case of the highwaymen. There are no developments as to the whereabouts of Collins.

WILL LAY STONES FOR BASE OF MONUMENT.

Major E. A. Sherman, secretary of the Sloat Monument Association, is preparing to leave for Monterey on Thursday to superintend the preliminaries for the laying of several more stones in the base of the monument on Saturday afternoon next.

Among the stones that will be laid are those in honor of Governor Peter H. Burnett, the first chief executive of the State; Thomas L.arkin, United States consul at Monterey in 1843 and General John A. Sutter distinguished pioneer of Governor George C. Doane will go to Monterey to assist in the ceremonies in connection with the laying of the Governor Burnett stone, and Senator George C. Perkins, who is an ex-Governor of the State, and other ex-Governors will also take part.

Major Sherman is working hard to secure the necessary funds to complete the monument and he hopes will result in the production of the necessary cash. Taking advantage of the liberal offer of $100,000 by the Standard Oil magnate, just at this time, the shrewd major has written a letter to the millionaire setting forth the needs of the monument association and suggesting that it would be a very worthy thing for him to do to fund the fund needed to complete the grand memorial of the acquisition of California by the United States. The offer of about $100,000 from the oil king would be about sufficient to finish the statue and work from him is anxiously awaited. In the meantime, Major Sherman is going right ahead, interesting various organizations to provide stones for the base of the monument. One of the next stones to be laid will be that of the Spanish War Veterans and cemented within it will be a Spanish soldier captured by an Oakland boy at Manila.

In view of the popular belief in the curability of the disease we asked him to permit us to state the facts. He not only consented, but dictated and signed the following Richardson-Brunsg Co., Inc. 512 Front St., San Francisco, April 13, 1905. "The J. M. Fulton Co. of Washington St.—Gentlemen, About four months ago I was taken sick with pains in the kidneys and I went about with a lame and tired feeling. My family physician diagnosed my case as Diabetes. The specific gravity was 1.040, and there was a large quantity of sugar. The recommendation of several friends I sent for Fulton's Diabetic Compound and began taking it at once. I have had an analysis twice a week since, after the first bottle there was marked improvement, and I am now completely cured. I called on my physician a few days ago and the analysis did not show a trace of sugar and the specific gravity was 1.020. I am happy to say I am now feeling better than I have felt for the last five years. Yours very truly, P. F. BRUNSG.

UNION MEN TO HAVE FLOAT

WILL REPRESENT THEM IN THE PARADE TO BE HELD MAY DAY.

At the meeting of the Central Labor Council last night A. E. Maiden reported progress in the matter of building the float which is to represent the laboring men of the city in the parade on May Day. Mr. Maiden, who is a member of the Electrical Workers' Union, No. 283 has complete charge of the mechanical part of the construction. There is to be an ingenious machine invented by him on the float to copy the cause of labor.

This float, which will represent all the unions, is to be decorated with flowers and vines by the members of the Women's Label League. There will be in the parade several smaller vehicles to represent different unions. William Greer, the business-agent of the Material Teamsters, is preparing a handsomely decorated carriage to do honor to that union. It is expected that the carpenters will also have a separate buggy in the procession. The books of the president secretary, and treasurer of the council were examined by the board last night and found to be correct. The last three months was closed up.

TO LECTURE. Under the auspices of the District Council of Carpenters, Rev. C. E. Brown will deliver a lecture at the California Hall, next evening. The subject is to be "The Oppression of a People." Unionists are especially invited to attend. The speaker is the pastor of the First Congregational Church and a talented and eloquent orator.

Therefore, it is asked that the value of the property be assessed as well as the improvements, and that Mrs. Potter be paid a reasonable amount for it.

The Mad Rush to Tonopah

The Reno Gazette warns men without means against rushing to the Southern Nevada mines. It says Tonopah, Goldfields, Bullfrog and the smaller outlying camps are swarming with idle men without money vainly searching for employment. Yet the rush continues. Men are coming from every direction allured by the printed stories of the numerous rich strikes and the fabulous fortunes speedily acquired in that region. Says the Gazette:

"There is no question about the greatness of those southern camps. But the man who, without a cent in his pocket, will venture into that region is tempting fate. It is better for Nevada that these things should be known and heeded by men who would otherwise take the chance of going into the southern goldfields and landing there 'broke.' These men are coming back every day, and the tales are tales of hardship and disappointment. These tales become circulated, creating in many minds a doubt as to the greatness of the State's mining development. These disappointed ones are, in relating the dismal tale of their own experience, probably telling the truth, but their misfortune in no wise detracts from the glory of the goldfields. However it would be well for people without money to heed the warnings that come out of the camps."

History is repeating itself. Every rich mining country discovered on the Pacific Coast has attracted a multitude of broken men seeking to mend their fortunes. The throngs were swelled by working men hunting for work, as well as the idle, thrifless and vicious camp followers attracted by the stories of flush times in rich new camps. The Frazer River, White Pine and Panamint excitements of years ago, and the more recent ones of the Klondike and Cape Nome are the most notable examples of poverty, wretchedness and suffering in the midst of great riches. In spite of all urging men will continue to be lured by their imaginations into inhospitable regions, only to find that they have followed an ignis fatuus to their own sorrow. Every man who has been in the typical mining camps of the past remembers that when the mines were pouring forth a flood of treasure which was recklessly squandered at the bars and gambling tables, idle men were tramping the streets begging the price of a meal or a bed. The Tonopah country is but undergoing the experience of all previous scenes of great mining excitements.

The local papers are doing their utmost to stop the rush of poor men to the mines, as this extract from a recent issue of the Tonopah Sun proves:

"Every public organization in Goldfield, from the Western Federation of Miners to the Chamber of Commerce, should use its voice and influence against the immense influx of more working people than are now in the district. There are plenty of workmen here for all the positions offering and many more. That the city is full of idle persons is not to be denied. Of course nothing can be done to make amends toward those who are here now, except to give them employment as fast as possible, but every effort should be made to prevent further immigration of working people."

Unhappily such warnings are thrown away on the very class which should heed them most. One story of a rich strike will destroy the effect of a hundred warnings. The man with little to lose and nothing to hope for where he is, is apt to say, "I can live there if anybody else can, and I'll take my chances with the others." Unfortunately the chances are few and the seekers are many. In a desert country where mining is the only resource, being out of money and employment reduces men to desperate straits. And such is the perversity of fortune (or rather of the human race), that it is easier for a broken man to get whiskey in a mining camp than food. The consequences are disastrous morally and physically. Good men become confirmed tramps and drunkards, and thousands die in hovels of pneumonia and other diseases to meet a pauper's sepulture in a desolate land.

Public Opinion Stops the Torture.

The San Francisco police have made a qualified denial of practicing torture on Rosa Tortorici, wife of the murderer of Biagio "Vilardo." It is to be observed, however, that the denial is in general terms, and was not forthcoming till the press, led by THE TRIBUNE, denounced the lawless and atrocious outrages practiced on the poor, ignorant woman. It is not denied that the police dragged the wretched creature, trembling and shrieking, into the presence of the mutilated remains; that they compelled her to touch the corpse while they subjected her to a brow-beating inquisitorial examination, in which threats largely figured; and that finally they threatened to take her infant from her if she refused to make a confession.

Day after day the unhappy creature, ignorant of our language and our laws, and standing friendless and alone amid a group of inquisitors, has been subjected to the refinement of torture. It was an exhibition of barbarity revolting to every sentiment of decency, manliness and fair play.

Again and again the courts have declared that confessions extorted by such methods are worthless as evidence; it is an axiom of the law that no accused person can be compelled to incriminate himself; yet here are the police violating these fundamental principles of American jurisprudence. However, the police are likely to be more decent with this woman hereafter. The press has taken the matter up, and her countrymen, while now sympathizing with the crime and having no intent to impede the course of justice, have employed counsel to protect her from ill usage and secure the recognition of the rights the law gives her. When public opinion spoke through the press, the police were forced to forego the more flagrant of their tortures.

Dewey's Big Navy Argument.

Admiral Dewey says if Togo is beaten in the coming naval fight all the money and all the lives Japan has spent in the war with Russia will have been wasted, as a Russian naval victory now would place the Japanese coasts at the mercy of Rojstevsky's fleet. The hero of Manila uses this as a text for an argument in behalf of a great armament of battleships, assuming that the United States would be in the same predicament Japan will be in case of defeat if we should come to blows with some foreign power overmatching us on the sea.

The argument is fallacious. The positions of Japan and the United States are not analogous. Our length of coast line on two oceans is too great to be successfully blockaded, and our insular possessions are not at all necessary to the National welfare. A continental nation of such vast extent and internal wealth as ours is not comparable to an island power exposed to attack from the ocean on all sides and susceptible of complete isolation.

An archipelago, composed mainly of small islands, constitutes the empire of Japan. This archipelago is commanded by the Korean peninsula, which juts out like the point of a spear within close proximity to the Japanese coasts. Command of the sea is vital therefore to the independence and commerce of Japan. It is peculiarly indispensable in the present instance, because the Japanese are waging a war on land. Should their sea communications be broken the victorious army of Oyama would soon be powerless, for lack of munitions and supplies, to continue the Manchurian war.

While all this is apparent, it is equally apparent that no such contingency could arise in the event of the United States going to war. We would have no army to isolate, and our coasts could not be successfully blockaded. Moreover, it has been demonstrated that torpedoes, floating mines, land batteries, submarines and torpedo boats render the capture of any land-locked harbor by the most powerful fleet impossible. All the principal ports of the United States are land-locked, and defended by batteries and devices to repel attack by sea.

It follows that Admiral Dewey has argued from false premises in citing the position of Japan in the present war as at any time applicable to the United States. A reasonably strong navy is necessary, we believe, to the maintenance of our dignity in the family of nations, and for the protection of our coasts, commerce and insular possessions, but it is not of such overmastering necessity to us as it is to Japan or Great Britain. The United States will soon have seventeen battleships in commission—more than the combined fighting strength of Russia and Japan—and there does not seem any urgent reason for much enlargement at present. It would be an unnecessary expense to rival the naval armament of Great Britain or France, which countries have vast colonial possessions in many parts of the globe.

Admiral Dewey, by implication, figures that the United States should have forty-eight battleships. There is no necessity for such a formidable fleet, which would cost from $150,000,000 to $200,000,000 annually to maintain, in addition to first cost, which would be enormous. By creating a navy of such magnitude this Republic would be guilty of the same economic blunder that we have constantly inveighed against in European nations. A frightful incubus would be created to prey upon the finances of the country.

Field Marshal Oyama says he is a soldier, not a politician; nevertheless he possesses in a marked degree the leading characteristic of all great politicians—the ability to hold his tongue.

President Roosevelt captured a prairie wolf by holding its jaws so it could not bite. Now let him try the same device on some of the gray wolves of the Senate.

Mexico is regarded generally by those not well informed as a strictly silver-producing country, yet the low price of silver has developed the same phenomenon there that has been witnessed in other countries, of the gold yield rising in proportion to the demands of commerce. Last year the value of the gold produced in Mexico was only a few hundred thousand dollars less than the value of the silver produced, and this small difference in favor of the white metal promises to be wiped out entirely in a year or two. Mexico is rich in gold, but the fact has been obscured by the richness and extent of the silver mines. Now that the finances of that country have been placed on a gold basis, the development of the gold mining industry will be accelerated. Nearly $16,000,000 worth of gold was mined in 1904, and the production is increasing rapidly. Meanwhile copper and other minerals are being extracted in large quantities, so the importance of silver mining is relatively much less than it used to be.

Smith—You remember Muggins, who used to bore us with his long-winded stories?
Jones—Yes; what of him?

Smith—He was arrested yesterday for being short in his accounts.—Chicago News.

"Of course," said the shrewd business man, "I don't want to be sick, but it looks as if I'd have to call in Dr. Borroughs for a couple of weeks."

"What for?" demanded his friend.
"He owes me $100, and that's about the only way I can collect it."—Philadelphia Press.

"I had a horrible dream last night," said Huddleston, when he came down to breakfast the other morning.

"What was it?" asked his wife.

"I dreamed that I was in purgatory and was made to do all the things I had told my friends I would do if I were in their places."—Town and Country.

Ayer's Hair Vigor. To be sure, gray hair is better than no hair. But why have it gray, and thus tell everybody you are getting old? Keep it dark and rich; make it long and heavy.

MORE EVIDENCE

It Is Coming In Rapidly in Oakland.

Evidence on the following subject will prove of interest to every Oakland reader. So many people go through the same experience daily, that public statements should be made to every wavering doubter. Read it carefully.
Wm. Deal, 1010 Fifth Street, employed at the Ferry Bridge, says: "For three years I was subject to attacks of backache, each successive attack latterly was of long duration and much more acute than its predecessors. Some of them lasted for three days at a time and although I knelt from the backache and from the action of the kidney secretions that there was something radically wrong with my kidneys, what to do to check the trouble I did not know. It was a mystery. Reading about Doan's Kidney Pills induced me to try that remedy and my father went to the drug store for a box. It helped the last attack and I purchased a second. BUILDING OF HER HOME

Society Matron Selects Lot, Purchases Ground, Drew the Plans, Ordered Material, Employed Men and Watches Work All Day

LOS ANGELES, April 13.—Seated upon a carpenter's bench and deftly making a dainty piece of embroidery, during the daylight hours of the past month, Mrs. Grant G. Hughes has been superintending the construction of a cottage that is to be her future home at 1825 Staunton avenue.

When the building is completed, the fair superintendent will have the satisfaction of knowing that it is all her own ideas included, from the ground up for in reality she selected the lot, purchased the ground, drew the plans, ordered the material, employed the workmen and superintended the construction.

As to who pays the bills is a different question and doubtless, Mr. Hughes inwardly has groaned a number of times, for his wife has some expensive ideas regarding the construction of a house and without doubt the cottage of seven rooms will have the most costly finishing of any house of a similar size in Los Angeles.

There will be polished oak floors throughout one room will be finished in mahogany another in maple another in cedar and the others in Oregon pine. In the dining room there will be a buffet carved in an elaborate manner and reaching from floor to ceiling and a plate rack will encircle the entire room. Every ceiling will be of the beam pattern and every window will be of plate glass including a large curved window in the living room. Included in Mrs. Hughes' plans is a carved cozy corner mantel, a stationery bookcase and elaborate window seats. Her tastes for the beautiful also extend to hardware and throughout the house will contain the finest hardware furnishings obtainable in the city.

In the kitchen will be found no pantry but instead there will be cupboards with panel doors and various other handy arrangements that appeal to the hearts of the housewife and the cook.

One day during the past week Mrs. Hughes was found in her accustomed place on the carpenter's bench and with embroidery in hand directing the work of construction and she smilingly admitted that she was personally overseeing the material construction of one of her "castles in the air."

"I merely want to demonstrate that women as well as men have ideas regarding the building of homes," said Mrs. Hughes, "and sometimes better ones she added, with a smile. "Yes I drew the plans. Of course, these merely were a rough outline of what I wanted and then an architect completed the details but I saw to it that he did not deviate from the original drawing. Now, every man in planning a house to contain seven or more rooms will provide for a parlor in the darkest corner of the house where the very atmosphere is as solemn as that of a chapel. I have done away with the parlor entirely. Instead there will be a large living room light and airy and having a grate and window seats. Everything about the room will suggest cheerfulness and informality both to friends and members of the family. In the arrangement of other rooms I have carried out my own ideas. Expensive? Yes, perhaps some of them might be so termed but then there is nothing like comfort in one's home. Too, more houses should be planned for the convenience of those who preside over them, rather than built on the plans of men who often never are at home except to eat and sleep. This is not my first attempt to build a house," concluded Mrs. Hughes. "I built a cottage at Long Beach last year and I really think it is a model summer house."

Mrs. Hughes is a favorite among the younger matrons of Los Angeles, and is the wife of a well-known business man.

NEW YORK April 13.—William Garrison is dead at his home in Camden, N. J., from a peculiar injury received while playing ball.
Last Saturday Garrison made a swing at a pitched ball. He missed and his momentum was so great that he spun around three times.
Apparently Garrison felt no ill effects until several days later, when he was taken ill and the physicians found that one of the main blood vessels of the stomach had been ruptured.
Nothing could be done then to save his life.

ALL KINDS OF MEAT
ADVANCED IN PRICE

NEW YORK April 13.—Prices of all kinds of meat have begun to rise in New York because of a reported increase to dealers of about two cents a pound. This advance in dressed beef by the packers means a corresponding increase of from 4 to 6 cents per pound at retail on the average grade of sirloin steak, porterhouse steak and prime ribs of roast beef.

Retail dealers say they received notice of the first advance ten days ago but postponed an advance to their customers. However on receiving notice of a further raise next week it was found necessary to make a change in retail prices.

Meetings of the Retail Butchers and Meat Dealers Protective Association will be held in all the boroughs to take action. The Brooklyn branch of the association already has met and discussed the situation. Several speakers bitterly denounced the packers, who were alleged to be taking concerted action to falling off in supplies of cattle at the Chicago Stockyards, no such falling off had taken place and that the raising of prices was entirely unjustified.

THIS GIRL
LIVES THE LIFE OF CINDERELLA

NEW YORK, April 13.—"Life was so hard. Nothing but work work all the time. No dances no theaters no pretty things because I must support my mother. I am always willing to help her, but when she blamed me, I wanted to die."

Penitent with tear-filled eyes pretty Pauline Katz, who tried to commit suicide yesterday morning by drinking wood alcohol believing it to be carbolic acid thus explained that death at eighteen years seemed preferable to life because like Cinderella she might not share with her elder sister and companions the pleasures of the world. After recovery in a hospital she was arraigned in the Harlem Court, was discharged by Magistrate Baker and returned home with her mother.

"I began working as soon as I was old enough," said Pauline tearfully. "Father died when I was a little girl. All my money I have given away to my mother. She buys the clothes I need, but the pretty things I cannot have because there is no money."

"Sister helps her, too, but I am the littlest one. No one ever thinks I need anything but plain clothes. No one ever can see that I like to see a play or dance a bit. Because I am only a child, they think I can only work. It is for eight in the morning till six at night—all the long day. Then I must go to bed after I have eaten my supper. I must not think of being gay sometimes. If I do every one thinks I am naughty, and I am scolded. So the work and my life gets harder all the time."

"I only earn $4 a week. It is such a little bit of money. I never can have a cent that is my very own. I cannot even buy a little candy."

"Now, do not think I want my mother to suffer. I love my mother and I want to take care of her. But if she would only see that I am not a baby any more and would treat me like my older sister—let me have a good time, too, I would not get so blue. I just could not stand it another minute. I intended to turn my money over to mother. It was under my pillow—every cent of it. But she thought I was going to keep it for myself and she was angry. She said—" struck me just as if I was a child. Then she told me she would send me to some awful place on an island across the river. I did not know where it was nor what she meant, only that I would not see my home again."

"So I took that wood alcohol I thought it was carbolic acid. I smelled like it and the drug-store man said there was carbolic acid in it. It burned me awfully."

"Mother found the money before they took me to the hospital. I was glad because I thought I was dying and I wanted her to know that I had told the truth."

"Life seemed good when I thought it was all over. I would go to bed contented. I don't try again to kill myself."

NECKLACES WILL BE POPULAR

If ever a girl indulges her own sweet fancy in the matter of jewelry it is in summer. Good form dictates that she shall wear certain jewelry with certain gowns at certain functions during the winter but in summer she has some leeway and goes in more generally for the bizarre effects.

In this summer of 1935 her particular fancy will be the necklace for wear with dainty hand-made blouses, which Dame Fashion decrees shall be in high favor. For mourning wear she has chosen the large, graduated bead necklace, which hangs loosely about the throat, with a bead as large as the thumbnail forming the center and reaching to a line with the shoulders. These beads match in color the skirt or belt of a costume. One attractive necklace for wear with a tan skirt is composed of graduated agate-like beads in a most delicate smoked ivory tint. Gold beads are much larger than formerly, and one girl has brought out a set of crystal beads which her grandmother brought from Switzerland many years ago. These are beautifully cut and sparkle like diamonds, making a most brilliant setting for her distinguished features. Large crystal beads can be bought nowadays only for fabulous sums, though a tight-fitting necklace of small crystal beads can be purchased for $10 by the girl who wishes to follow the strictest dictates of fashion.

Small necklaces of coral will also be extremely popular this summer. A string of imitation coral beads which fits closely around the throat and which shows the beautiful light shade of the more expensive coral costs 50 cents and is an effective ornamentation for a white or cream-colored waist.

Of all precious stones, none has been so wonderfully imitated as the amethyst, both in the light and dark color, and an expert alone can judge of their real value. One very quaint ornament for the base of the throat shows amethyst about the size of a bean, cut flat, with eight sides, and set in silver each setting being joined by a tiny silver link. Another necklace has pear-shaped pendants suspended from a silver filigree in the form of a Grecian border. Cushion-like squares of gunmetal half an inch in width hold a tiny rhinestone in each center and are connected with invisible links. Cameos carved in pink shells are joined with gold filigree and worn as a necklace.

Popular as are these large neck ornaments, the little chain from which pendants dangle still holds its own. A chain of small rhinestones bears on each of its links a long icicle-shaped pendant. Bright jet chains holding long jet pendants of varying length also give a gleaming, radiating effect about the neck. Pendants in the design of Egyptian harps hang from fragile silver chains, and show tiny stones of different color. Simple gold chains are employed for hanging jeweled crosses about the neck, and the charming little pearl and emerald drops will continue to be the bride's favorite gift for her maids.

Thomas Butler, Aged 105 Years is Dead—Used Tobacco All His Life.

NEW YORK, April 13.—Thomas Butler born in Queenstown, Ireland, in 1800, is dead at his home here. He came to America when twelve years old and for eighty years was identified with wharves and shipping at Canal street. It is said Butler attended church every morning for sixty years, and so regular were his habits that he was known in the neighborhood as "Old Clock." He used tobacco all his life, but had abstained from liquor since 1841. Of his seven children, only two survive.

HINTS FOR SPRING
HOUSE CLEANING

When the paperhangers and painters have taken their departure, the housewife wakes up to the realization that a floor here, a table there, a chair on this side or a picture frame on that shows signs of hard usage which were not manifest before house-cleaning commenced. If she calls in the cabinet-maker to repair these trifling damages, the expense is heavier than she anticipated, but with the proper cleaning fluids polishes and rags, she can do wonders by herself, or by the aid of her better half.

Enamel and wicker furniture which has been varnished must be sanded before it can receive a new coat. There is no touching up spots on highly polished surfaces of this sort. Here is the best method of preparing wicker furniture or enamel surfaces for a fresh coat of paint. Boiled water in which a little washing soda has been dissolved should be poured over and through the wicker work for ten minutes or longer. When this is dry, go over it with a flannel cloth wet in turpentine or naphtha, after which the table or chair must be allowed to remain in the air or where the air can reach it over night. Next day rub down with sandpaper.

Spots which have faded from hardwood surfaces through heat, light or the touch of alkalis can be brought back to their original color by rubbing gently with boiled linseed oil mixed with one-eighth of alcohol. Apply this mixture to the surface several times during the day with a small wad of cotton batting rolled in a square of old silk or linen.

To remove a dent from wood cover in hot water and sprinkle with pulverized borax. Rub the copper surface thoroughly with this and rinse in very hot water.

Marble statues should never be washed with soap. Instead, dissolve a large lump of Spanish whiting and a teaspoonful of washing soda in enough water to moisten the whiting and form a paste. Rub this into the marble with a flannel cloth and after an hour wash it off with warm water, dry well, and polish.

To freshen up gilt frames, wipe with a cloth moistened with oil of turpentine and let the frame dry without rubbing. Or the frame may be carefully dusted and then washed with the whites of three eggs, into which one ounce of soda has been beaten. If the frame is nicked to show the wood beneath, touch these spots up first with a good quality of gold paint.

If carpets are dull after the regular beating, go over the entire surface with ox-gall, or household ammonia, and water.

with four thicknesses of wet paper and set a blazing hot iron on the paper for a minute and if necessary repeat the steaming. Should the varnish be injured, rub off with alcohol or naphtha and then revarnish.

A scratch which goes no deeper than the varnish may be healed by holding a red hot poker an inch above it for half a minute. When the place cools, rub it well with a mixture of alcohol, olive oil, and cider vinegar in equal quantities. This also makes a cheap and excellent furniture polish and will remove white spots from varnished furniture.

To polish copper, wet a coarse cloth in hot water and sprinkle with pulverized borax. Rub the copper surface thoroughly with this and rinse in very hot water.

OFFICIAL DOPE.

In yesterday's sixteen-inning affair on the local diamond but one three-cushion shot was made and that rolled off the willow wielded by E. Householder of the Portland people. And all the torrid things said about Kelly will have to be sponged, for he of the red undershirt hit like a champ bag puncher. The official scorer noted that Kelly ripped off a couple of two-baggers, while King, who has been advised to hit the trail back to the bushes, can stay a while longer, for he connected for a pair of two-cushion shots and played where the wild flowers grow like a big leaguer.

Brown Buck Franks and Red Bill Devereaux each are down in the dope for a double shot, while for Portland Clark has two two-baggers on the right side of the register. Essick also hit out a double with his pitching arm and, sad to relate, it was his little double that brought in the run in the sixteenth inning, which proved to be the majority for the people from Portland.

In the ninth inning Moskman was sent in to bat for McMurry, but the best the Dr. could prescribe was a pop fly, easily gathered in. Hence McMurry was retired from the game and Byrnes substituted. Both backstops did good work.

There were two double plays and both are credited to the visiting band. Runkle and McLean each made one, unassisted.

The only sad feature, aside from the score, was the fact that Van Buren, Portland's guardian in the left patch, wiggled his ear at "Slats" Davis when he came to bat and was promptly fined five bones therefor. He said "such" and it cost him ten more. He couldn't afford to talk any more, but Davis wouldn't trust him and ordered him from the game, the bench and the grounds. It was the first time that Van has ever been so humiliated.

Pitcher Cates was substituted and he played his position perfectly.

BY GEORGE VAN HALTREN.

It was a great duel.

Seldom in baseball is there anything like it.

The pitching of Graham was excellent. He was steady and heady at all times and I believe that he could have gone on delivering benders until night time if the score had permitted. Essick, too, was in fine form, and improved as the game aged. But Graham deserves the palm, for he remained throughout the entire sixteen innings.

I thought sure that Oakland would get the game in that last period. With all bags covered and no men out and Kruger at the bat it looked a certainty. Then, with Kruger gone, it so occurred that Byrnes' "almost" safety fell into the shortstop's glove and Graham, who was about to score, was out at home—a double play.

The Portland players made just twice as many errors as did Oakland's men, while we secured three more hits.

Anyway, it was a great game.

FRENZIED FRAY.

Before the sun ducked its glim yesterday, p. m. the Oakland hirelings and the wearers of the blue from Portland had played sixteen innings of baseball on the Idora Park battleground to a score of 3 to 2 in favor of the visiting bunch.

It just lacked two innings of being two nine-inning games, but to the shivering fans on the bleachers it was worth the price of admission to four Sabbath day contests.

It was the longest game ever played on the Idora Park grounds, the longest game in the history of 1905 baseball and would take the longest time to tell about if everything was written as it occurred.

Throughout the whole sixteen innings little red-faced Oscar Graham pitched remarkable ball. He was touched up for twelve scattered hits to fifteen registered against Essick.

While Graham occupied the mud-hill for the whole sixteen periods of doubt the same cannot be said of Essick, who retired in the fifteenth and allowed "Six-foot-two" Garvin to stay out the remainder of the trouble.

It took just two hours, fifty-five minutes and forty-eight seconds to settle the matter, and the last part of the time was allowed for Essick to retire to the place under the grand stand and nibble on a glass rim.

But Oakland should have won that game. In the sixteenth inning the Commuters had three men on bases and no outs. Garvin looked easy and Clay Hawbacker prepared to catch the first car. But Oom Paul Kruger forgot the Velt and went back to the bench. Then Graham saw the hit and run sign for his place on third and was caught out at home just after Batter Byrnes landed a fly in a gapping glove at short.

The fans yelled for help and they carried Hawbacker to the grog room. The game was over, finished after supper and all hands get overtime on their pay checks.

BY "JUDGE" M'CREEDIE.

We won the game a couple of times.

When the umpire said Essick balked and advanced the man on third to the plate, scoring a run, which tied the score, I protested, for I believe that he had no right to do so. Essick didn't balk, but threw the ball down to first. Oakland didn't earn that run.

We got one in the last inning, however, that they couldn't take away.

Essick won his own game by slashing out that two bagger. He pitched remarkable ball, as did Graham, and he could have continued, but as I had Garvin I thought it best not to run the chance of weakening his arm by continuing him in the box.

I am sorry that the umpire saw fit to retire Van Buren, who is no rowdy player, but a gentleman on the diamond.

We won and won in less than sixteen innings.

THAT DISPUTED RUN.

Rule 54—The base runner shall be entitled, without liability to be put out, to advance a base in the following cases:

 IF THE UMPIRE CALL A BALK.

It was under this rule yesterday that Umpire Davis allowed one run to Oakland, causing "Judge" McCreddie to protest on behalf of the Portland team.

For Oakland, King was on third, while Kelley was on first. Pitcher Essick, just before he threw to first to catch Kelley, who was playing off, made what Umpire Davis declared was a balk. Umpire Davis motioned Kelley to take second and then told King to move on to home.

It was this decision which caused Oakland to be credited with two runs and Portland with one tally until the sixth inning had passed.

In the seventh Portland tied this score and the long journey was commenced.

WALDRON MAY SIGN WITH HARRIS.

Negotiations now pending may result in reinforcement of the Los Angeles Club by the addition of a first-class outfielder, well known in the Coast League as a good "inside man" and a .300 hitter—"Stub" Waldron of the San Francisco team, now under contract to Henry Harris, but not yet reported for action.

Through the baseball season is on, and all the good men have signed away their services, the National Commission never ruled out trades between managers, and on that fact lies the possibility of bracing up the Loooleo line-up by swapping little Artie Ross for the able peanut butcher who hails from Kansas City.

Waldron, for personal reasons, refused to put in an appearance at Recreation Park this spring. Harris learned that he was willing to play in Los Angeles, and so did Ross.

Little Arthur never did himself justice on the hard field at Chutes Park—his feet are bad, and the burnt-brick going affects him just as it would Harris, so there seems a good probability of its being made, though at present, the northern magnate wishes to wait a bit and see if Waldron does not reject the recall of a run. The peanut stand in Kansas City, and did not seem to care much whether he chased two baggers or not.

Waldron is a left-handed hitter, very fast going down the first and a tall, getting base-runner. He is not a "slugger" batsman, but rather one of the scientific kind, and is considered a valuable player by every manager who ever paid him money. The prospective change would probably help all parties concerned, as it would give Ross a chance to play his game; would put another shifty stickman in the first four of the Los Angeles batting order, and shove hard-hitting Ted Smith down into the "slugger-notch"—fifth or sixth.

WEST OAKLAND CLUB FIGHT CARD.

Next Tuesday evening the West Oakland Club will present one of the best arranged cards of boxing contests seen for some time. The matchmaker has spent a great deal of time and attention in securing a card which can be relied upon to furnish excellent goods, and the result will no doubt be a fine evening's entertainment. All the contestants have been required to put up a forfeit for appearance and weight and can therefore be relied upon to show up. The first bout will be between two bantamweights, who will surely put up a hurricane go. This will be between Jockey English, race track, and Willie Brown, New York, at 110 pounds. Both are fast and clever boys and their bout will be full of fast work from start to finish. The next bout brings out an opponent who thinks he can lower the colors of Young Ganley, who has yet to be defeated. This is Kid Chavez from the Sunnyside Club of San Francisco. He has met and defeated a number of 110-pound boys in the different San Francisco clubs and feels confident of taking Ganley's measure. Ganley's ability is well known and a hot fight can be looked for.

The next bout is between Al Paccho, Sunnyside Club, and Win Gunther, S. F. A. C., at 125 pounds. Paccho put up a rattling bout last month and can be depended upon to put up a hot bout. His opponent is a good one, and those who have seen him go say he will give Paccho a very hard fight.

The following bout is between Joe Riley, North Oakland, and H. Friel, S. F. A. C., at 130 pounds. These two are anxious to meet, as both claim to be the best man and have been trying to settle the question for some time and now will have the opportunity to do so.

Then comes J. De Pont, W. O. A. S., and M. Rodgers, Berkeley, at 125 pounds. Both have appeared a number of times and have always put up rattling bouts and are now preparing for a hard bout, as both have a knockout punch and know how to use it.

The last bout will be between Kid Joseph, W. O. A. S., and Joe Enos, Oakland, at 120 pounds. Both have appeared numerous times and have always put up rattling bouts and can always be depended upon to do the very best that they are capable of.

Ganley, Joseph and De Pont are working out at the club and are rapidly getting into trim.

JOE REILLY'S TURN DEFEAT "BILLY" KANE AND HIS STABLE.

[Special to THE TRIBUNE.]
GRASS VALLEY, April 13.—Quite a big crowd of sports went over to Nevada City yesterday afternoon for the purpose of seeing the much-talked-of Los Angeles fighter, Joe Reilly, in his afternoon boxing bout at Armory hall, and every one had a good word to say for the little fellow when they left the place.

"He is a hard worker," said Billy Williams, "and of the two boxers, I think Reilly is the cleverest."

This opinion was shared by all who had seen both Hyland and Reilly with the gloves on and a good many even went so far as to say that Reilly would carry their money when it came to making a bet.

Martin Murphy, the veteran trainer, looked Reilly over carefully and stated that he was a remarkable little fighter with plenty of speed and dash and a good punch. Murphy thought Reilly was in good condition to enter the ring now.

Biddy Bishop was enthusiastic over Reilly's condition, and was well pleased with his work. "You can just say for me," said Bishop, "that I will positively guarantee that the public will see a contest that will satisfy them in every respect. I intend to put on other matches here and I realize that my future depends on the result of this contest and rest assured, it will be all that I have claimed for it."

It is estimated that fully two hundred persons saw Reilly do his exercising stunt. He first boxed two rounds with Kid Windsor, a good capable fighter who is anxious to tackle Jack Clifford. Reilly and Windsor mixed it good and plenty and Joe's fast fighting was a revelation. He was as quick as a flash with both hands and at no time did he have to extend himself. Reilly then boxed two rounds with Tommy Connell and he exhibited the same cleverness and speed with Connell as he did with Windsor. A feature of the bout with Connell was Reilly's fast piston rod left which kept in Tommy's face continually.

Joe did some exercise on the mat which are known to develop the muscles in the stomach, after which he skipped the rope and wrestled with Kid Windsor. Altogether Reilly worked perhaps forty minutes and at the conclusion of it all he was as fresh as a daisy.

REILLY TO MOVE.
When Sol Livingston, Reilly's manager, arrives tonight he will arrange to have his protegee do one afternoon's work in Grass Valley and invite the public down to see him work. Then the local sports will be able to get a good line on the two fighters.

An Wing, the Chinese wonder, is expected tomorrow and it is thought he will finish his training down at Hyland's gymnasium. Badger is getting himself in good shape for the bout and he is confident he will beat the chick.

The Miners' club will have two preliminaries and the first bout will not start until 9:15, which is to enable the clerks who work late to see the entire show. The main event will be in the ring perhaps about 10 o'clock.

Again the Young Phoenix, St. Mary's College second nine, lowered the colors of old Pensacola. The victory was more distressing for the study sailors than last Saturday's, when the score stood 9 to 3 against them. Several reasons contributed to this result, viz: victory for Pensacola seemed assured until the fatal ninth; besides, they were on their own campus with their own rooters.

A strong wind yesterday swept the Island campus. The fielders and pitchers suffered considerably on this account. Hopkins for a while seemed particularly distressed, and in consequence, with the game still young, the collegians had to face the discouraging score of 8 to 3. They did not relent, however. Their pitcher settled down, they supported him well and by consistent hitting and excellent base-running the score stood 8 to 7 when they faced Barnegrow for their final turn at the bat.

A three bagger by Burke, followed by singles by Hopkins and Hollarin made the score 9 to 8. The sailors in their half fought valiantly and retired with all the honors or deserving vanquished foe.

Joseph Du Fosse of the Young Phoenix in the second inning badly fractured his ankle. His place was filled by Hollarin.

Mr. Blentzel of Oakland, selected by Pensacola, umpired to the satisfaction of all.

Following was the score:

STRODE - HUNT WINS FIRST GAME

The Broadway Alleys were quiet last night as everybody went to the Palace Alleys to see the match game of duck pins rolled between Strode and Hunt vs. Overman and Stanley.

The Broadway champions met the enemy on the enemy's home alleys and even with such a handicap didn't let them win one game.

The team bowing of Hunt and Strode was something worth going a long way to see and those who may witness the final games Friday night on the Broadway Alleys will no doubt witness some of the best duck pin bowling that has ever been bowled in Alameda county.

At present Hunt and Strode lead by 35 pins; the following are the scores by games:

Hunt—84, 91, 92, 125, 101—493.
Strode—104, 105, 110, 92, 103—514.
Total, 488, 186, 202, 217, 204—1607.

Stanley—82, 91, 84, 105, 92—454.

GOOD WORK DONE BY OAKLAND BOARD OF TRADE.

The following interesting circular has been sent out by President Capwell:

"As a member of the Oakland Board of Trade you have helped during the past year to send over 200,000 pieces of illustrated literature descriptive of Oakland and Alameda county as a whole to inquirers in the East and Europe."

"You have helped by means of the 'All Day for a Dollar' excursions, conducted by the Board of Trade, to introduce more than 100 non-residents to Oakland, many of whom have become permanent residents through having taken the trip."

"You have helped to secure $25,000 for the improvement of Oakland harbor, which means manufactures and money to Oakland."

"You have helped, with your dollar a month, to create a fund that made it possible for the Oakland Board of Trade to answer by letter the questions asked by nearly 4000 people from various parts of the United States and Europe."

"You have helped to locate in our midst many new manufacturing enterprises and hundreds of new residents, which has resulted in the expenditure of many thousands of dollars in this county among our business and professional men. Your dollar a month has surely been bread cast upon the waters."

"Tuesday evening, April 18, 1905, at 8 o'clock, the annual meeting and election of officers of the Oakland Board of Trade will be held in the rooms of the board, 510 Twelfth street. Remember the date and come."

MANY PEOPLE SEE RICHELIEU

The magnificent production of "Richelieu" at Ye Liberty Playhouse this week is proving to be a very popular attraction with the patrons of that popular theater, who not alone admire the excellent manner in which the very clever members of Bishop's thirty players are playing the various roles, but the artistic settings, scenery, and the elaborate costumes worn by every one in the cast. It is as complete a production as has ever been seen in Oakland and the management feel justly proud of "Richelieu."

H. G. Gimmur has scored a distinct hit as the Cardinal and Miss Adele Block shares honors with him as the niece. Robert Elliott is strong and forcible as the Chevalier de Mauprat, and the Barons of Frank MacVivres will long be remembered. All in all "Richelieu" is the most artistic success that has yet been seen at Ye Liberty, and the patrons of the house are well pleased with the success of the management in providing them with such an excellent line of attractions.

WOMAN'S GENTLE NATURE CALLS FOR GENTLE TREATMENT

Delicately formed and gently reared, women will find, in all the seasons of their lives, as maidens, wives, or mothers, that the one simple, wholesome remedy which acts gently and pleasantly and naturally, and which may be used with truly beneficial effects, under any conditions, when the system needs a laxative, is—Syrup of Figs. It is well known to be a simple combination of the laxative and carminative principles of plants with pleasant, aromatic liquids, which are agreeable and refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system when its gentle cleansing is desired.

Many of the ills from which women suffer are of a transient nature and do not come from any organic trouble and it is pleasant to know that they yield so promptly to the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs, but when anything more than a laxative is needed it is best to consult the family physician and to avoid the old-time cathartics and loudly advertised nostrums of the present day. When one needs only to remove the strain, the torpor, the congestion, or similar ills, which attend upon a constipated condition of the system, use the true and gentle remedy—Syrup of Figs—and enjoy freedom from the depression, the aches and pains, colds and headaches, which are due to inactivity of the bowels.

Only those who buy the genuine Syrup of Figs can hope to get its beneficial effects and as a guarantee of the excellence of the remedy the full name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co.—is printed on the front of every package and without it any preparation offered as Syrup of Figs is fraudulent and should be declined. To those who know the quality of this excellent laxative, the offer of any substitute, when Syrup of Figs is called for, is always resented by a transfer of patronage to some first-class drug establishment, where they do not recommend, nor sell false brands, nor imitation remedies. The genuine article may be bought of all reliable druggists everywhere at 50 cents per bottle.

The find was made on Antonio John's place. Apparently the remains are those of a woman about five feet six inches in height and full grown. All the bones and the skull were intact.

BRINGS SUIT FOR THE DUNSMUIR MILLIONS.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—Suit was begun yesterday by Public Administrator Hynes, as special administrator of Alexander Dunsmuir's estate, against the Pacific Improvement Company, the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Horace G. Platt and A. D. Shepard for shares of stock of the Equimatt and Naimo Railway Company, which, it is alleged, belong to the estate. These shares, it is said, amount to one-fourth of the capital stock of the railway company and are worth $3,000,000. An accounting as to dividends is also asked. This stock was the subject of the proceedings taken in Judge Coffey's court last Tuesday, when special letters were procured by Hynes, so that a claim might be made for the shares. Hynes is backed in the contest by Dunsmuir's mother and his stepdaughter, Edna Wallace Hopper. James Dunsmuir, who is fighting them, claims all of the stock as his own.

I was helpless and bed-ridden for years from a double rupture. No truss could hold. Doctors said I would die if not operated on. I fooled them all and cured myself by a simple discovery. I will send the cure free by mail if you write for it. It cured me and has since cured thousands. It will cure you. Write today. Capt. W. A. Collins, Box 518, Watertown, N. Y.

Captain Nance Punishes Officers and Privates For Insubordination.

BERKELEY, April 12.—Owing to the poor drilling of Company E for the last three weeks, and the disorder in the ranks on Monday, March 27, Captain Nance has reduced several of the non-commissioned officers to the ranks and a few privates have been excluded from military.

The members of the company were severely reprimanded by Captain Nance at a meeting of Company E, held in the armory at drill hour on March 29. Finding that officers would not give the names of those creating the disturbance on the preceding Monday, he reserved final punishment till later.

At the drill hour last Wednesday this order was read to the company. By it a part of the non-commissioned officers and the second lieutenants were made private. Some of the non-commissioned officers were transferred into other companies.

Several privates have received notice that they are demoted from military for the rest of the year. Unless this order is revoked, it means that all sophomores who received such notice will be forced to drill during their senior year.

The cases of several of the privates and officers have not as yet been decided upon and will be taken up at some future time.

Captain Nance's official order in the matter reads as follows:

With the approval of the President, the following officers and non-commissioned officers, Company E, First Regiment, are reduced to the grade of private, viz:

F. N. Baker, second lieutenant; C. L. Smith and G. A. White, sergeants; M. E. Leach, E. T. Rosenlund, F. O. Stevens, R. H. Van Sant, D. G. Whitelaw and T. W. Winsor, corporals.

With the approval of the President, the following named privates, Company E, First Regiment, are transferred to other companies, First Regiment, as indicated opposite their names: J. H. W. Barnes, A. T. Howe and H. W. Losse, to Company B; C. H. McCharles, C. R. McKilligan, H. R. Mead, G. D. Hook, J. C. O'Connor and L. R. Reed, to Company C; E. A. Richards, to Company A; R. J. Wulzen, to Company D.

BURY A DOCTOR

Friends Mourn at Bier of George F. Thomas, An Aged Physician.

BERKELEY, April 12.—The funeral of George Frederick Thomas, a pioneer physician of this State and one of the best-known men in the bay cities, who passed away last Tuesday night, was held yesterday afternoon at his home on Parker street, near Telegraph avenue.

Dr. Thomas came to San Francisco from England, where he was born, in 1850, and opened up an office in that city, where he practiced medicine for many years. Shortly after the opening of Cooper's Medical College in the metropolis he accepted the chair of pathology in the institution, which he held until he came to Oakland and took up his practice on this side of the bay.

Eight months ago his brother, John Thomas, and himself fell heir to a snug little sum, and since then he had given up active practice. He was acquainted with nearly all the members of the medical profession on both sides of the bay and was the friend of all. He was aged 84 years of age and unmarried.

UNIVERSITY MAN CALLED TO JAPAN.

Robert Ritchie Put in Charge of Important Newspaper in Orient.

BERKELEY, April 12.—Robert W. Ritchie, a graduate of but three years' standing from the University of California, has just accepted the post of managing editor of the Yokohama Daily Advertiser, the only American newspaper in the Far East outside of Manila. The position carries with it a large salary and complete control of the news and editorial ends of the paper.

Ritchie's rise in the journalistic world has been extraordinarily rapid, and in the short period of two years and a half he has climbed all the steps to the top of the ladder. He made his first start as a "cub" reporter in Berkeley in the summer vacation of 1902, immediately after getting his diploma from the State University. He stayed at work at the college town for eight months, and then applied for a reporter position on the local staff of the Call in San Francisco, where he did such good work that he was promoted until he was one of the special writers on the staff of that paper. When a special edition was demanded, calling for a full account of the history of the State, Ritchie was called upon for the task.

Later Ritchie was summoned from the reporter room to take a desk, full charge of the literary side of the paper being put in his hands. His book review

Woman's Nightmare

No woman's happiness can be complete without children; it is her nature to love and want them as much so as it is to love the beautiful and pure. The critical ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so fraught with dread, pain, suffering and danger, that the very thought of it fills her with apprehension and horror. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend so prepares the system for the coming event that it is safely passed without any danger. This great and wonderful remedy is always applied externally, and has carried thousands of women through the trying crisis without suffering.

Humane Society Woman Sends Communications About the Work.

BERKELEY, April 12.—Mrs. Soule, vice-president of the Alameda County Branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has written to the North Berkeley Improvement Club a letter in regard to work accomplished by the society.

Mrs. Soule declares that no greater humanitarian work was being done today in this county than that which this society was doing in saving dumb animals from worse than death. The purposes and methods of the society are also described and reference made to Dr. Carpenter of Alameda as an authority on the subject. The club has authorized the chairman to invite Dr. Carpenter to address the club on the subject.

Superintendent Potter of the Oakland Traction Consolidated informs the club that the service on the North Berkeley street car lines will be improved later in the month. In regard to the matter of the Pacific Electric line not being given better service, Superintendent Potter said that there was a shortage of rolling-stock and wire at present, but that the matter would be given his immediate attention.

President Robertson has received a letter from Governor Pardee in answer to the protest of the bill providing for the signing of the bill in the Alameda county office. The Governor stated that he would give the bill his most earnest consideration.

MUSICAL CLUB PROPOSED

TO FORM ORGANIZATION FOR THE PRODUCTION OF AN OPERA.

FRUITVALE, April 12.—Preparations for completing a musical organization composed entirely of residents of Fruitvale are being made by Anson S. Hilton of this place. He was the leader in the production of "Pinafore," which was given three times in Oakland for charity. Nearly all the members of the chorus were citizens here and their performance was highly spoken of by critics.

When the new organization is formed the production of another opera by Gilbert and Sullivan, the authors of "Pinafore," will be attempted. The name of this is "The Pirates of Penzance," and it is said to be almost the equal of the former opera.

The success of "Pinafore" was largely due to the efforts of Mr. Hilton, who is a well-known and popular musician.

REPRESENTATIVES OF FRANCE AND PORTO RICO IN TROUBLE AT SAN LEANDRO.

SAN LEANDRO, April 12.—France and Porto Rico are in a warm controversy here. Representatives of those countries have sworn to complaints charging each other with disturbing the peace.

The first warrant was obtained by Miguel Gonzalez, who accused Louis Gellan of using vile and abusive language to her. Gellan swore to a complaint against Frank Gonzalez alleging the same misdemeanor.

Both the accused were arrested Tuesday and pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Recorder Black. Both were released on bail of $10 apiece. The date of the trial has not been set.

The story told by Gonzalez is that the Frenchman occupies part of the same house with her family. Both were washing Monday and had placed their clothes near together to dry. It was then that Gellan used the naughty words, telling her to remove her washing from his.

It is alleged that Frank Gonzalez then took part in the war of words and used language which shocked the propriety of the Frenchman.

RUNAWAY HORSE. Some excitement was caused by the running away of a horse belonging to Dug Toffelmeyer on Tuesday. The carriage was empty. As the horse ran to waste San Leandro along the Oakland road it collided with a wagon belonging to J. Avila, which tore the buggy from the harness. The shock of the impact threw Avila's animal to the ground, while the other passed on unharmed. The runaway horse was stopped in San Leandro. Toffelmeyer's buggy was completely wrecked.

Elaborate Exercises Will Mark the Opening of New Edifice in Alameda.

ALAMEDA, April 12.—This evening the elaborate exercises connected with the dedication of the handsome new edifice at Central avenue and Chestnut street, which was erected for the First Congregational Church at a cost of over $30,000, will be opened with a banquet in honor of Rev. W. W. Scudder Jr., the former pastor, and Mrs. Scudder, who are here on a visit from Seattle.

Rev. Mr. Scudder retired from the local charge, where he was greatly beloved, to accept the position of superintendent of missions for Washington and Idaho. Two hundred and fifty guests will be seated at the banquet table, the affair to take place in the commodious assembly hall of the new church. In the center a round table twenty feet in diameter has been placed, where covers will be laid for the principal guests. Other tables will radiate from this one like spokes from a hub, and the table decorations are to be elaborate and artistic in character.

Among the speakers will be Rev. W. W. Scudder Jr., Rev. George Morris, Rev. L. Potter, Hitchcock, the present pastor, and Rev. George May, all of whom in the years past have been in the church. The count of pastors will be complete. The reminiscences of the early days of hardship and struggle will prove very interesting.

Next Sunday, the 16th inst., the formal dedication of the church will occur, the sermon to be preached by Rev. C. H. Brown of Oakland. In the evening the choir will sing the hymns of the new Unitarian Divinity School. Rev. George W. Stone, Charles A. Muddell and others.

A SERIES OF ACCIDENTS. ALAMEDA, April 12.—Mrs. Alice Cario and her two daughters, Misses Francis and Jessie Carey of 3259 Encinal avenue, who have returned after spending two weeks at Mrs. Cario's old home near St. Helena, are telling their friends of their experience in an exciting runaway accident while on their trip.

They had accompanied a party on a pleasure drive, when their horse, becoming frightened at an automobile, ran away. Miss Francis Carey was thrown from the vehicle and had a rib broken, fortunately escaping with no more serious injuries. At the time of the accident, Cario received word of the death of her father-in-law at Stockton, and went to that city to attend the funeral, returning to St. Helena before starting for Alameda.

ANNUAL DINNER. ALAMEDA, April 12.—The annual dinner of the Unitarian Club was an event last night at the headquarters on Grand street, covers being laid for 150 persons, while the ladies of Unity Circle have decorated the banquet hall very tastefully for the occasion. Owing to the large attendance, it was necessary to use the main auditorium of the church. Rev. and Mrs. Ruess, who returned yesterday from their wedding trip, were present, and an interesting address was given.

ALAMEDA, April 12.—Percy Fox, a local letter carrier, will be unable to serve in the position of deputy school census marshal, to which he was recently appointed. A letter received yesterday from the Post Office Department gives the decision that under a well established ruling a government official cannot receive offices at the same time, so that Fox is out of it, and a new deputy must be chosen in his stead.

WORK IS NEARLY COMPLETE

ALL WILL SOON BE READY FOR INSTALLATION OF TRANSFORMERS.

FORMERS.

ELMHURST, April 12.—Within a week everything will be ready for the installation of the transformers, which are to reduce a current of electricity from 50,000 volts to 2,300 volts. They will be placed in the Elmhurst power house being erected in the Elmhurst power house. The first story has been completed and work on the walls of the second is progressing rapidly. The sides of the house are to be of concrete, and will be lined with terra cotta to prevent the high tension current from escaping.

There are to be three transformers, and they will handle the light current as well as that for the motor-generator. The transformer doing the work at present, which is included in a separate building across the street, will be abandoned, not being of the same type as the new ones. Each of the latter will have a capacity of 500 kilo-watts apiece.

ITEMS OF INTEREST. Without a single opponent Dr. W. F. Lynch was elected to the office of High School Trustee at a public meeting of the citizens held at the schoolhouse Tuesday evening. There were about fifty voters present. The voting was done by ballot, after the usual parliamentary method, as this is the way prescribed by law in the case of the first election when the bonds have been voted.

Three new members were received into the Elmhurst Grove of Druids last night.

Mrs. A. Jones of Jones avenue is entertaining her brother, J. Green, of Ohio, who expects to stay here for several weeks.

BRINGS SUIT FOR THE DUNSMUIR MILLIONS.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—Suit was begun yesterday by Public Administrator Hynes, as special administrator of Alexander Dunsmuir's estate, against the Pacific Improvement Company, the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Horace G. Platt and A. D. Shepard for shares of stock of the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway Company, which, it is alleged, belong to the estate. These shares, it is said, amount to one-fourth of the capital stock of the railway company and are worth $3,000,000. An accounting as to dividends is also asked. This stock was the subject of the proceedings taken in Judge Coffey's court last Tuesday, when special letters were procured by Hynes, so that a claim might be made for the shares. Hynes is backed in the contest by Dunsmuir's mother and his stepdaughter, Edna Wallace Fopper. James Dunsmuir, who is fighting them, claims all of the stock as his own.

WOMAN'S GENTLE NATURE CALLS FOR GENTLE TREATMENT

Delicately formed and gently reared, women will find, in all the seasons of their lives, as maidens, wives, or mothers, that the one simple, wholesome remedy which acts gently and pleasantly and naturally, and which may be used with truly beneficial effects, under any conditions, when the system needs a laxative, is—Syrup of Figs. It is well known to be a simple combination of the laxative and carminative principles of plants with pleasant, aromatic liquids; which are agreeable and refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system when its gentle cleansing is desired.

Many of the ills from which women suffer are of a transient nature and do not come from any organic trouble and it is pleasant to know that they yield so promptly to the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs, but when anything more than a laxative is needed—it is best to consult the family physician and to avoid the old-time cathartics and loudly advertised nostrums of the present day. When one needs only to remove the strain, the torpor, the congestion, or similar ills, which attend upon a constipated condition of the system, use the true and gentle remedy—Syrup of Figs—and enjoy freedom from the depression, the aches and pains, colds and headaches, which are due to inactivity of the bowels.

Only those who buy the genuine Syrup of Figs can hope to get its beneficial effects and as a guarantee of the excellence of the remedy the full name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co.—is printed on the front of every package and without it any preparation offered as Syrup of Figs is fraudulent and should be declined. To those who know the quality of this excellent laxative, the offer of any substitute, when Syrup of Figs is called for, is always resented by a transfer of patronage to some first-class drug establishment, where they do not recommend, nor sell false brands, nor imitation remedies. The genuine article may be bought of all reliable druggists everywhere at 50 cents per bottle.

1 KILLED AND 2 INJURED

SALOON BRAWL IN NEW YORK CITY HAS FATAL RESULTS.

NEW YORK, April 13.—One man was killed and two received severe injuries early today in a saloon brawl at West Thirty-first street. The dead:

JOHN JOYCE, bartender.

Wounded:

JOHN DOYLE, one of the promoters, WESTON, a waiter.

A party of eight men and one woman seated at a table became disorderly and were refused service by order of the proprietors. They refused to leave and a waiter removed the table. One of the men drew a knife and began cutting right and left.

Joyce received injuries which quickly proved mortal. There were 75 persons in the place and the battle caused considerable excitement. Many of the participants had fled before the police arrived.

The Very Best Remedy for Bowel Troubles—No Family Can Afford To Be Without It.

"I regard Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as one of the very best remedies for bowel troubles," says Mr. J. W. Hanlon, editor of the Despatch, Ocala, Georgia. "I make this statement after having used the medicine in my family for several years. I am never without it. No family can afford to be without a bottle of this remedy in the house. It is certain to be needed sooner or later. For sale by Cargod Bros., corner Twelfth and Broadway.

CLAIRVOYANTS.

PROF. LEE

ARRIVED IN OAKLAND FOR TEN DAYS ONLY. PROF. LEE, SAN FRANCISCO'S NOTED CLAIRVOYANT.

has been prevailed upon by many of his Oakland friends to visit this place for a short stay, therefore he has opened his office here in the Colusa building, 1010 1/2 Washington street.

Honest dealings are commendable. Always coming the best.

LEE—Professor—Lee.

Prof. Lee is

The Greatest Clairvoyant in the Wide World.

Standing Charge $5000—For His Equal—$5000.

Others may come and others may go, but Prof. Lee always remains.

has been a native of California for the last 22 years and is legally ordained by one of the oldest spiritualistic societies of California.

If You Are Going to See a Clairvoyant, Why Not See the Best?

As he always the cheapest at all times. Better consult no clairvoyant at all than one who is unable to help you, as false prophets do more harm than good.

as they lead you in a worse condition than before by their false advice, based upon guesses; but Prof. Lee, on the other hand, is an established, tested, and credentialed from thousands of your own citizens and friends.

Mr. Lee has made a life study of his work and is prepared to advise and assist you, no matter what your troubles are; his capacity there is no guess-work; every procedure is definite and exact and the result is certain. If you have already made a mistake, turn away your money, and lost confidence through dealing with much-advertised and self-styled palmists and clairvoyants, you may expect to be misled, start from the beginning and consult Mr. Lee. He will tell you frankly your condition as it really is.

If nothing can be done for you he will not take one cent of your money. Has this not honesty on the face of it?

During the last 10 months I have brought around through this wonderful power of personal control 721 marriages.

He is a man of such private nature, came by the natural consent of opposing parties located in burned treasuries; located 19 guilty men, success in gaining 80 persons, reunited 38 separated; have helped 123 investors, there have been 714 cases of such private nature, his power is life classifying, in fact, it suffices to only say there is no heart so sad or wish too great that may not be speedily realized by the force of this wonderful power.

Satisfaction positively guaranteed or no fee. $1.00. $1.00. $1.00. $1.00.

IVY LODGE NO. 4, D. OF H.

Ivy Lodge No. 4, Degree of Honor of the A. O. U. W. is having large meetings and frequent initiations. Chief of Honor Miss Bertha M. Clark, succeeds in making the meetings particularly attractive to the young members and an attraction committee has each evening in charge and a general good time for all is the result of their ingenuity and care.

On April 24, Oak Leaf and Pacific A. O. U. W. and Ivy D. of H. hold their monthly open meeting. This time a whist party will be given for the benefit of a deserving member of the A. O. U. W.

Beautiful prizes have been selected which will soon be on exhibition. A fee of 25 cents will be charged. The public is cordially invited to be present. On May 8th, a paper carnival will be given by Ivy Lodge under the direction of Mrs. Carney.

REBEKAH LODGE, I. O. O. F.

Oakland Rebekah Lodge No. 16, I. O. O. F., held a pleasant session Saturday evening. The business of the Lodge being concluded, the "pie eating" contest took place which caused much merriment. All kinds of pie looked alike to those participating. Brother "Santimp" Keeler came in first on the home stretch. The whist party to be given by No. 16 with Sister Ella Wilson, chairman, will take place the 6th of May.

OAKLAND HIVE NO. 14.

There is a committee from Oakland Hive No. 14 busily engaged in making plans for a poverty social and dance to be given on the evening of the 25th inst. at the lodge rooms in the Macabean Temple. At this time a door prize will be given; also a prize to the person who shows most distinctly the signs of poverty. A nominal admission fee will be charged, and tickets will be sold for a grab-bag—this also at a small cost.

Every effort is being put forth by each member of the committee to make this affair a thorough success, and the co-operation of every member of the

DIRIGO LODGE K. OF P.

The esquire rank was conferred Tuesday evening on Dirigo Lodge No. 234, after which a general good time was had in the way of discussions and talks from S. S. Purdy of Bakersfield, A. L. Philipp of Denver, No. 65, Bernstein of Oakland, No. 103, and members of Liberty Company No. 11.

Particular attention is called to the fact that Dirigo third degree team will go to Berkeley next Monday evening to confer the work for that lodge and special cars will run from Fourteenth and Broadway not later than 7:45 sharp and all members and visitors are asked to accompany the team and make this visit to Berkeley an encouraging one.

A ladies' night is being planned to take place in one of Oakland's largest halls. Watch for the date to be given in this paper later. Next Tuesday evening the Knight Rank. Visitors always welcome.

OAKLAND LODGE NO. 929.

Oakland Lodge No. 929, Modern Brotherhood of America, will give the second tournament of the series Tuesday evening at Ben Hur Hall, 1060 Broadway.

ARGONAUT HIVE NO. 59.

The whist tournament given by Argonaut Hive No. 59 and Tent No. 33 of the Macabees last Tuesday evening proved a great success. Beautiful prizes were distributed to the fortunate winners. Great credit is due the social committee of the Tent and the committee of the Hive who so successfully carried out their plans. The committee from the Hive consisted of Ladies Ella R. Clark, Edith M. Kreiss and Susie Smith.

Ticket No. 45 held by Mrs. Adelina Garcia drew the sofa pillow raffled by the Hive.

FOREST CIRCLE W. O. W.

Members of Forest Circle No. 515 W. O. W. enjoyed a banquet prepared and served by a committee of the men of the Circle, namely George B. Stetson, ably assisted by Neighbors Bloom, Davis, Nethercott, Myers, Jeffries and Berwick, who look very stunning in their white caps and aprons and made quite a "hit." There were visitors from Palatka and Berkeley. Many witty speeches were made by the visitors and members.

The boys advertised the business in which each member is engaged in a novel manner which afforded much amusement. All present enjoyed the evening.
